TAKEN OUT AND HANGED.

Assailant of Laura Burnett Lynched by a Mob of Farmers.

Danville, Ill., May 26.—J. Halls jr., and W. Royce, who were in jail here awaiting trial for a vicious assault upon Miss Laura Burnett, were taken out by a mob and hanged yesterday morning at the scene of the crime. The lynchers were farmers from the vicinity of the village of Indianola, where Miss Burnett lives. The mob justified its action by declaring that Governor Altgeld's record warranted them in beliving that even if the men were convicted he would pardon them and so defeat justice.

Miss Burnett's assailants had been recognized as John Halls, jr., and William Royce, aged 20 and 22 respectively. They were arrested the same night. Miss Burnett belongs to a respected family, and the neighboring farmers were worked up to a frenzy over the assault.

It is extremely doubtful if any of the mob which lynched Halls and Royce here will be punished for the crime. Though none of the lynchers were masked it is impossible to find any one who can identify them. The coroner's jury last night returned a verdict to the effect that Halls and Boyce came to their deaths by being hanged with ropes in the hands of a body of unknown men.

The grand jury is at present in session and it is said the matter will be brought to its attention, but there is scarcely a probability that any indictments will be found. Some of the present grand jurors were in the lead of the crowd as it marched down the street to the bridge with the prisoners, and the police seemed as unconcerned, as if they were escorting a holiday procession through the streets. While a few citizens deplore mob violence, the general majority of the people are in full sympathy with the work of the night.

A committee from the lynchers has offered to pay for the damage done to the jail and although the iron doors, corridors and cells were battered down, the sheriff does not think the damage will be in excess of $100.

The mother of Halls is greatly distracted. Living in the edge of South Danville, she could look across the river and see the crowd around the jail and hear the blows of the battering ram upon the iron doors of the jail. She ran through the streets of the village pulling her hair until restrained by friends. A public meeting has been called to meet in South Danville to-morrow night, at which time notice is to served upon all tough characters in that place to leave the country or run the risk of meeting the same fate that befell Halls and Royce.

It is reported that the parents of the young men lynched will sue the county for damages and will make an effort to have the members of the mob indicted. It was expected by some that Judge Rookwalter would yesterday call the grand jury before him and instruct them to make a searching investigation into the lynching, but he did not.

To Counteract Carlisle's Effect.

Louisville, May 26.—The democratic state leaders of Kentucky, headed by John D. Carroll, chairman of the democratic state executive committee, have invited W. H. Harvey, author of "Coin's Financial School," to come to Kentucky and make speeches advocating the free and unlimited coinage of silver. The object of this is to counteract the effect of Secretary Carlisle's arguments from a sound money standpoint, which have already set up a counter-tide to the silver movement which has taken a firm hold on the people.

The Same Old Story From Cuba.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 24.—A special fron Tampa., Fla., says telegrams received this evening by Cuban leaders from Jamaica emphatically deny that Marti, the Cuban leader, is dead. It is declared that it was only a hoax of the Spaniards to weaken the cuban cause that the Spanish goverment could secure a loan from the German government in order to carry out the war successfully. Those who know give very little credence to the report, and they are very jubilant to-night over the news received.

Not Divided in Death.

Poststown, Pa., May 26.—The funeral of John E. Jackson, who resided at Springfield, Chester county, was held yesterday. During the seryices, Mrs. Jackson, wife of the deceased, died suddenly, at the age of 80 years. After a short time the ceremonies were continued and the husband's remains buried. Mrs. Jackson's body will be interred on Tuesday by the side of her husband.

German Baptist Campmeeting.

Decatur, May 24.—The annual campmeeting and business meeting of the German Baptist Brethren of the United States began last night at Oakland park, with a large attendance of the Dunkards. It is expected that 15,000 to 20,000 members of the society will attend, besides thousands of visitors. The opening sermon was delivered by Elder N. B. Trout, of Troutwood, O. The business meetings will be held daily until June 7, when the farewell service will be held.

PLENTY OF ADJECTIVES.

But a Lack of Logic in the Address of Tennessee's Bi-metallic League.

Memphis, Tenn., May 26.—The Bi-metallic League of Tennessee has issued the following pronunciamento:

"To the People of United States: The arch enemies of the agricultural and producing classes of our country, who, moved by greed and encouraged by a voice, have conspired to transfer the essentially governmental functions of issuing and controlling the money volume of the nation to a system of banking corporations, full of the vice of class legislation, and void of any virtue which commends it to the consideration of a patriotic citizen."

The address then goes on to say: "That the people may come together and take counsel of each other, it has been deemed expedient to call together a convention to assemble at Memphis on the 12th and 13th days of June. Every community, every city and town and every state in the union are earnestly requested and cordially invited to send delegates to that convention. It is proposed that this convention shall voice the sentiments of the people.

"The object of this convention is to formulate some definite plan of future action, to give direction to the overwhelming volume of public sentiment favoring a return to our own and establishing our independence of alien financial institutions, to devise means for such campaign of education that it hereafter will be impossible to elect only such men to the legislature and executive offices of the nation as are unawed by power and unbought by spoils."

The Pennsy to Try Electricity.

Philadelphia, May 27.—Within the next ten days officials of the Pennsylvania railroad expect to be in a position to make determining tests of the comparative efficiency and economy of steam and electricity as a motive power for its smaller branches. For this purpose the Mount Holly to Burlington, N. J., a distance of seven miles has been selected, and for months past the work of equipping it as a trolley road has been in progress.

This line was picked out for the experiment because of the easy grades and the light freight traffic. As at present operation by steam, it is a source of greater expense than the gain to the company. If by substituting the trolley system it is found that the expenses can be reduced and the receipts increased, making the line a profitable one, the trolley will doubtless be introduced on a number of other small branches of the company which are in about the same position as the little road from Mt. Holly to Burlington.

A Business Block Burned.

Scranton, May 26.—A disastrous firet that visited Dalton, a borough of this county, at 4 o'clock this morning swept away an entire block. It caught in F. L. Van Fleet's store and fanned by a strong wind despite the energetic efforts of a large fire brigade soon reduced to ashes the large lumber yard and buildings of Francis & Dershimer, including a dwelling and barn; a bakery shop and dwelling of W. A. Dean; a store of Oscar Stall; a hardware store of Rice & Son, and a store, barn and ice house of A. O. Eaton. The flames were not checked until the entire block was burned over. The loss is between $35,000 and $40,000, partially covered by insurance. While trying to save a set of books from the office of the lumber yard James Boardman fell from the second story, struck on his back on a chain stretched between two posts, broke his ankle and sustained internal injuries from which physicians say he will die.

When the War Ended.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—A decision of considerable importance has been made by Assistant Secretary Reynolds of the interior department in the pension case of John Barleyoung, late of Company E, Thirteenth United States infantry. Barleyoung served from April 19, 1866, to April 19, 1869, and claimed a pension under the service pension law on the ground that the war did not end until the issuance of President Johnson's proclamation on August 20, 1866, declaring it at an end. The assistant secretary holds that the actual termination of hostilities was in July, 1865.

—Mrs. Eliza Haupt, the mother of Conductor Allison Haupt of the Tyrone division, died at her home in Tyrone on Monday night, aged 76 years, 5 months and 28 days. Surviving the deceased are four sons and three daughters.

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, May 30, 1895.

From our Regular Correspondent.)

Mr. Cleveland has either changed his mind about again being the democratic candidate, or he is in possession of knowledge which enables him to play a shrewd trick on his party. He has agreed to throw the entire influence of the administration to ex-Secretary Whitney, if that gentleman will allow his name to go before the national convention. Opinion is divided as to whether Mr. Cleveland has become convinced of the impossibility of his own nomination, or knows that ex-Secretary Whitney has no desire to lead a democratic forlorn hope, and made the promise knowing that he could not be called on to keep it, and that the mention of Mr. Whitney's name would have a tendency to keep other possible candidates out of field, thus enabling him to push his own candidacy.

Senator Aldrich is now the only republican member of the Senate committee on Rules, the term of ex-Senator Manderson, the other republican member, having expired March 4 last. A meeting of this committee will be held this week, and, although Senator Blackburn, the chairman finds himself too busy looking after his re-election to attend a quorum will be present in the person of Senators Aldrich, Harris and Gorman. The meeting was called to consider certain proposed changes in the Senate rules. But no important action is probable, as Senator Aldrich will, there is no reason to believe, enter a protest against any action being taken upon any matter of importance by the committee as at present organized, owing to its being nominated by representatives of the minority of the Senate. It is believed that the committee will only transact routine business, leaving the question of changing the rules to be considered by the full committee on Rules which will be named when the Senate is re-organized next December.

Senator Sherman has gone to Ohio to preside over the republican State convention to be held at Zanesville, and the impression is general in Washington that in his speech to the convention he will out line the probable republican financial policy in next year's Presidential campaign. Of course Senator Sherman will not presume to speak for the republican party, but he is known to have always opposed monometallism, which is looking towards practical bimetallism—will carry great weight with republicans everywhere. Senator Sherman is a firm believer in the extensive use of silver in our monetary system and it is hoped, and believed, that he will suggest a plan that will be feasible and at the same time acceptable alike to conservative silver men

There is one thing that can be set down in advance as certain of any plan proposed by Senator Sherman; it will provide only for dollars worth 100 cents, and for the maintenance of the credit of the government under any and all circumstances. He has devoted a long life and great ability to the study of finance and what he says on the subject is always worthy of the country's attention and always gets it. It is daily becoming more apparent that it is to the republican party that the silver men must look for succor that amounts to anything; the democrats are all monometallists, one faction favoring a gold basis and the other a silver basis, while the republican party favors now, as it has always, bimetallism.

Senator Gorman has had little difficulty in knocking out the opposition to his control of the democratic State machine of Maryland. He had hardly got his guns into position when Hon. Isidor Raynor, the man who thought he had a chance to become the anti-Gorman democratic candidate, threw up the sponge and announced his withdrawal. Senator Gorman was never worried about his democratic opponents, but he is considerably worried, although he would probably deny it to any but his closest friends, by his fears that the republicans will carry the State.

Mr. Cleveland took another step towards keeping democrats in office under the next administration, which will be republican, when he extended the classified civil service rules to cover all the chiefs of division and bureaux, except the chief of the Weather Bureau, under the Department of Agriculture. This is taken as an indication that all the chiefs of divisions in the other departments will soon be given the same protection. The motive of Mr. Cleveland would have been less open to criticism had he made the change before all the republican chiefs had been succeeded by democrats.

Killed Her Husband and Herself.

Chicago, May 23.—Mrs. Ernest Arnable, 30 years of age, who lived in a fashionable part of Hyde Park, shot and instantly killed her husband and then, turning the weapon on herself, committed suicide to-night just after supper. Jealousy was the cause of the terrible tragedy. The 14 year-old daughter of the dead pair witnessed the bloody spectacle of her parents' death.

Compulsory Education.

The present legislature has had some hard things said about it by the papers of both parties, but among the commendable legislation enacted is the compulsory education bill, which has been signed by the governor and is now a law. It requires that every child in the commonwealth between the ages of 8 and 13 years shall attend for at least sixteen weeks in each year a school in which the common English branches are taught. Only such children shall be exempted from these provisions as are certified by parents or guardians to be mentally or physically incapacitated, or who live two miles from a public school or who are being otherwise instructed in the common branches and are so certified by the principal of a school.

A fine of $2 is provided for the first offense of anyone against the law and $5 for each succeeding offense. An appeal to the court of quarter sessions is allowed to the negligent parents or guardians. Boards of school directors or controllers are authorized to appoint truant officers to better enforce attendance at school.

A census of the school children in every voting district must be taken by the district assessor at the same time that the annual assessment is made and certified to secretary of the district school board. Each teacher is required to report to the school board secretary monthly the names of all children who had been absent without satisfactory reason for five successive days.

The school board secretary must then proceed against the parents or guardians of the child. A plea of poverty made by the parents or guardian, if sustained by the evidence, is expressly declared a sufficient excuse for non-compliance with the act and in such a case the cost of prosecution is to be paid by the school board.

The failure of any school board secretary to comply with the provisions of the law is declared a misdemeanor and he is liable to a fine not exceeding $25.

Gresham's Resignation.

Advices from Washington are very positive that Secretary of State Gresham will resign on account of ill-health. While the people will all sympathize with the Secretary on account of his misfortune, it must be admitted there will not be much sorrow over his departure from the Cabinet. His administration of the State Department has not been a very satisfactory one, though in some instances it has been marked by good judgment.

The American people do not carry their political animosities into personal affairs, however, and even the jingoes will regret Judge Gresham's illness. It calls attention again to the stress of public life in the national capital under which Cabinet officers and public men have broken down. It may well be questioned whether a return to Jeffersonian simplicity at Washington would not be a good thing. Uncle Sam's affairs have reached vast proportions, and his executive officers have much to do without having to attend social functions. But the broken health of all who have gone before will hardly diminish the number in the ambitious scramble to get those trying offices.

One of the problems that will confront the Hawaii of the future is the effect of the consumption of Oriental spirits on the population of the island. If the Kanakas have taken to Japanese sake in unlimited quantities it will probably hasten the disappearance of the pure race on the island. In 1893 3804 gollons of sake was imported into Hawaii, and in 1894 83,095 gallons. At the same time the use of California wine jumped from 103,402 gallons in 93 to 124,729 gallons in 94. There was, however, a decrease in the imports of alcohol, brandy, gin, rum and whisky, and but a slight increase in the consumption of beer From the prospect, however, it looks as if, as far as liquors go, sake is likely to displace California wines and the Japanization of the islands in this detail become a fact.

Death of a Prominent Physician.

Johnstown, Pa., May 26.—D. W. Evans, for many years one of the most prominent Cambria county physicians, died at his home, this city, Saturday night at an advanced age, after months of illness. He was a native of this county. He was a pupil of the late President Garfield, who was his friend up to the time of the assassination of the president. He was until two years ago a member of the United States board of pension examiners, to which he was appointed by President Grant. The remains will be taken to Ebensburg tomorrow for burial and will be accompanied by members of the Cambria county Medical society, of which he was once the president.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Reading all Excited Over the Arrival of Her Visitors.

Reading, Pa, May 27.—The streets of Reading never presented a livelier appearance than during this afternoon and evening. Hundreds of sir knights arrived during the day accompanied by bands of music, and others will arrive during the night and to-morrow morning. The weather during the day was decidedly unpleasant and the outlook for a change was so uncertain that it was feared that it would interfere with the demonstration to-morrow. Shortly after noon, however, the wind shifted to the north and this was followed by clear sky, which gladdened the hearts of the thousands who thronged the streets. Among the first to arrive were: Cœur De Lion, of Scranton; Calvary, of Danville; Kadosh, Mary, Pennsylvania and Philadelphia; Lancaster, of Lancaster; Hugh De Pagne, of Easton; Hutchison, of Norristown; Wyoming Valley, Pittston and Gethsemane, of York.

The visiting commanderies were met at the stations by committees composed of members of De Molay and Reading commanderies, headed by the Ringgold and Germania bands and escorted to the headquarters.

Grand Commander, Irving P. Wenger, of Norristown, arrived this afternoon and at once issued orders in reference to the parade, which will take place to-morrow at 10.30 o'clock. Immediately after the parade the grand commanders will meet in the academy of music when the grand commander, grand treasuerer and grand recorder will be read. The principal business meeting of the conclave will be held on Wednesday.

This evening the visiting Knights were given receptions by the local commanderies at their respective halls.

Will be Electrocuted.

Albany, N. Y., May 27.—Dr. Robert W. Buchanan appeared before the court of appeals this afternoon to have a date set for his electrocution for the poisoning of his wife. This was the first time that the court of appeals has fixed a date for the execution of a death sentence and the first time that a murderer has been ordered to appear before the highest tribunal of the state.

The chief judge said: "Has the prisoner anything to say why the court should not pronoun e sentence?"

Dr. Buchanan stood up and said in a low, firm voi e: "I am innocent. There was no crime committed in connection with the death of my dece ased wife. I certainly protest against the extraordinary proceeding being taken."

The chief judge then reviewed the law under which the court was acting and sentenced the prisoner to be electrocuted during the week commencing Monday, July 1. Dr. Buchanan received the sentence silently and calmly.

Dedication Ceremonies.

Many of the students and friends of the late Prof. D. Wilson, Ph. D., formerly Principal of Tuscarora and Airy View Academies, Juniata county, also at one time principal of the Lewistown Academy, and the first President of the Farmer's High School, now State College, have raised nearly the full amount of funds necessary, have purchased a fine monument of Westerly and Quincy Granite, and have appointed the 30th day of May for its formal dedication, and a general reunion at Port Royal, Pa.

The dedication of the monument will take place at Church Hill cemetery at the conclusion of the ceremonies of decorating the soldier's graves, and arrangements will be made for a general reunion of the students and friends of Prof. Wilson at Port Royal on the evening of that day.

All former students and friends of the Professor are cordially invited to be present. Rev. James P. Hughes, Principal of the Bellefonte Academy, is one of the pupils interested in the above, but he will be unable to attend the dedication.

Watch Your Twenties.

An entirely new counterfeit twenty dollar treasury note, act of July 14, 1890, department series 1890, check letter A, plate numbered O, portrait of Marshall, W. S. Rosecrans, register of the treasury, E. H. Nebeker, treasurer of the United States, small carmine scalloped seal has made its appearance in New York city. This counterfeit is of the pen and ink process, well executed and exceedingly dangerous. The words "United States of America, Twenty Dollars," which appear six times in the border of the face of the genuine are wholly omitted from the counterfeit.

Trim Your Trees.

Now that the leaves have come out on the trees in Bellefonte it seems like a wilderness almost along the thoroughfares on which trees are growing, and at night the arc lights are almost hidden by the dense foliage. And in this respect it was suggested by a citizen that now would be a good time to trim the trees, and they should be trimmed from below up, so that the light would have a chance to shine under the branches. This is a very thoughtful and good idea, and one that should be carried out by every property owner where there are shade trees on the street.

WEATHER PREDICTIONS.

Foster's Predictions on the Temperature and Rainfall for June.

My last bulletin gave forecasts of the storm wave to cross the continent from May 27 to 31, and the next will reach the Pacific coast about June 1, cross the west of Rockies country by close of June 2d, the great central valleys 3d to 5th, and the eastern states about 6th.

The second disturbance of June will reach the Pacific coast about the 7th, cross the west rockies country by close of 8th, the great central valleys 9th to 11th and the eastern states 12th.

Warm waves will cross the west of Bockies country about June 1 and 7, the great central valleys 3 and 9, eastern states 5 and 11. Cool waves will cross the west of Rockies country about June 4 and 10, great central valleys 6 and 12, and eastern states 8 and 14.

East of the Rocky mountains June will average colder weather than usual, west of the Rockies warmer. The east gulf states will have about or above normal temperature, proceeding northward the temperature departures will increase on the cold side, colder from St Louis and Chicago toward the northwest than toward the northeast.

On the north part of the Pacific slope the temperature will average above, the temperature departures decreasing to about normal on the south part of the Pacific slope.

Rainfall of June in the southern states will be generally below normal. In the Ohio valley, the Dakotas, and east of Rockies arid districts rainfall will probably be short, while the northeastern states and the middle Mississippi valleys will have full or above average rains. Florida and western Texas will be short of rains.

Memorial Day.

This day of precious memories with its beautiful and now widely observed and honored custom is again upon us and 'tis pleasant to note the increasing interest with which all the people observe the day. A visit to the many cemeteries indicates the preparation the people make for this annual festival of memory. The graves of the dear ones are revisited and their tombs beautified and memory clings to the loves and joys of the past. The grave of the soldier who gave his life for his country, and his comrade who has since died, is especially sought out and loving hands place the flag he followed so bravely over his last resting place, at the same time bedecking the hallowed spot with love's remembrances by sweet perfumed and beautiful flowers, evincing the fact that patriotism and love of country yet burns brightly on the altars of the nation and that the deeds of the brave men who wore the blue, and the cause in which they suffered and died is held in remembrance by grateful people. Let all sacredly observe the day and learn lessons of patriotism from the sacrifices of the men who made the free republic the great and glorious nation that it is—the home of the oppressed, the hope and admiration of the world.

The State Legislature.

The religious garb bill has been made the special order for Tuesday next.

The Senate passed the following bills finally: To ascertain the cost of and to compile the laws governing the beneyolent, charitable and reformatory institutions under the control of the State and appropriating $2,500 therefore; to prevent the adulteration or selling of adulterated liquors.

The House defeated the supplement to an act empowering boroughs to tax persons, property and occupation for general borough purposes.

The House passed the following bills finally:

Punishing the printing, posting and distributing of any libelious circular or poster or other written or printed paper; authorizing the state food commissioner to enforce all laws against the adulteration of vinegar, jellies, etc., and unlawful labelling; to prevent fraud upon the users of commercial fertilizers; providing for the summary conviction of persons guilty of unlawfully wearing G. A. R. buttons, etc.

The bill to prohibit appropriations of the public funds for sectarian purposes was defeated.

—The Central Pennsylvania Company's telephone line to Lewistown is being equipped entirely with long-distance instruments. This will be a decided improvement.

LA GASCOGNE SAFE.

The French Steamer Towed by Tugs Into New York Harbor.

New York, May 22.—All anxiety for the French line steamer La Gascogne was relieved when at 10 o'clock this morning the marine observer at Fire Island discovered the black and white funnels of the Frenchman. Half an hour later the observer discovered a signal which he interpreted as a call for the assistance of tugs. Agent Agustin Forget, on receiving the news, immediately dispatched two tugs. They were joined by a third one. The trio met the belated steamer off Sandy Hook, where they ran alongside.

La Gascogne was proceeding very slowly and it was 3 o'clock when she crossed the bar. At quarantine she was boarded by the health officer, the customs officers and reporters. The story of her delay was briefly told. It was a repetition of the accident which befel her last February. On Thursday, the fifth day out from Havre, the piston head of the intermediate cylinder broke as it did before. The worthless cylinder had been disconnected by Chief Engineer Lebars, the other two connected and the steamer proceeded under half power at about eight knots an hour, hence the three days and a half delay in arriving.

There was no excitement amongt the passengers, of whom there were fifty in the first cabin, forty-four in the second and 501 in the steerage. In fact, only those in the engine room were aware of the break. Immediately, however, the vessel was stopped—that was at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning last—and it was 5 o'clock that evening when the work of disconnecting the deranged cylinder was completed.

Profiting by past experience no attempt was made to attain more than eight knots an hour after that time, as a speed of twelve knots after the last break down caused a heating of journals and a second stoppage. Beyond this break, delay and slow going there was absolutely no feature of the voyage out of the ordinary.

The Frosts in Pennsylvania.

Philadelphia, May 22.—The Pennsylvania state weather service issued the following:

Philadelphia, May 22.—The severe frosts of the 13th and 17th, and the freezing weather during the week, were very injurious to the early growing vegetables and fruits in nearly all sections of the state outside of the southeastern counties. The grape crop appears to be ruined. It is too early to determine the full extent of damage to potatoes, apples, pears and other fruits, and the isame may be said of vegetables, as many of them may yet recover under favorable conditions. While the injuries now appear serious, it is probable that the losses are over estimated. Grain and grass continue in very good condition, although slow growth was made during the week. Considerable corn has been planted and some of it is up. Less than the area of tobacco will be put in. The acreage of potatoes will be large.

Cleared Up the Mystery.

Bristol, Pa., May 22.—The mystery which has surrounded the identify of the dead boy whose body was found lying beside the Reading railroad track, near Lizette, on May 12, was cleared up today. The boy was identified positively as Ed. Colgan, 15 years of age, whose home was with Mr. W. Sargent, a well to do farmer, of lower Wakefield township. The little fellow was motherless, and the father who has not yet learned of the death of his son lives somewhere near Princeton, or at feast, was living there when last heard from.

Anti-Pool Bill Signed.

Chester, Pa., May 22.—District Attorney Schaffer received a dispatch from Harrisburg this afternoon informing him that the governor had signed the anti-pool bill, and he at once instructed the chief of police to close up the pool rooms at Essington, just this side of Philadelphia county line. The proprietors of the rooms had already been given the tip, however, and when the chief arrived the business was at a standstill. He was assured that no attempt would be made to openly violate the law.

Young Griffo Arrested.

Philadelphia, May 22.—"Young Griffo," the Australian lightweight pugilist, was arrested here to-day at the instance of the chief of police of Brooklyn. He is charged with unnatural offense. Griffo was arraigned before Magistrate Jermon this afternoon and held without bail to await requisition papers. The offense is said to be of a most revolting nature. The prosecutor is the Gerry Society for the Suppression of Vice and Immorality.

An Encyclical Letter.

Washington, May 22.—A translation was given out tonight by the apostolic legation of an encyclical letter from the pope. The encyclical is addressed to the heads of the Catholic church throughout the world and is a plea for universal prayers looking to the unity of Christendom to be offered before and on Pentecost.

Wages Advanced.

Philadelphia, May 22.—Henry Disston & Sons, the big lumber manufacturers of this city, to-day announced a general advance in wages of 10 per cent. The advance is given to all of the 1,700 employes of the firm.

Jumping from a trolley car, Mrs. Matilda Feustermach, of Bethlehem, lost a leg and has died.

Index to Prosperity.

Pennsylvania Railroad reports continue to show great increase in gross receipts, the figures for April being $441,456 in excess of the March earnings. The net receipts showed an increase of $113.578 for April over the preceding month. These latter figures are of course very gratifying to persons who are interested in this magnificent corporation, but the gross receipts are the encouraging figures to the genera public.

The greater business shown last month over March is a fair index to the quickened movement of trade in Pittsburg and the surrounding district. The increase of $1,593.382 in the gross business for the first four months of this year over the same period of 1894 represents a tremendous gain in the output of Pittsburg products and the employment of labor. Figures for the Pennsylvania system west do not show quite so great an increase, but the gross total is very satisfactory.

The larger operating expenses, both East and West, represent labor in great measure. The aggregate increase in expense last month was considerably more than a half million. More than half of that has gone into wages of train hands, shop men, coal miners and track men. It all adds to the general prosperity to which the earnings of the roadsare an index.

All Going to Bellefonte.

Last evening the Volunteer Hose company held a meeting and elected J. O. Moulthrop a delegate to attend the firemen's convention to be held at Bellefonte on the 5th and 6th of next month. E. L. Ruterbaugh was elected alternate.

It was finally decided by the company to attend the convention in a body on the 6th, and there will perhaps not be less than forty go. This decision was facilitated by the information that the committee appointed to secure a special train, which would afford the means of returning the same day, had been successful. The information had been given out in advance of the report of the committee that the train will leave the B., R. and P. station on the morning of the 6th at 5 o'clock, and that those who go can get home in the same way in the evening of the same day.—DuBois Courier.

Bicyclists Johnson.

Philadelphia, May 22.—Chairman G. D Gideon of the Racing Board of the League of American Wheelmen, to-day confirmed the announcement that Bicyclist J. S. Johnson has been declared a professional, and that T. Eck, his manager and trainer, has been suspended from all L. A. W. tracks for a year. The final vote of the Board on these cases was taken on Saturday.

The direct cause of Johnson's expulsion was that he sold prizes, and Eck's suspension was decided upon the cause of charge that he attempted to extort money from race promoters.

Reduced Rates to Bellefonte Centennial via. P. R. R.

For the Centennial Celebration, to be held at Bellefonte, Pa., June 5, 6, and 7, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell on those dates excursion tickets to Bellefonte and return, from East Bloomsburg, Shamokin, Ridgway, and intermediate points, and from stations on the Middle, Lewistown, and Tyrone Divisions, at two cents per mile.

On the same date tickets will also be sold to uniformed firemen (in the same territory) at a single fare for the round trip.

Tickets will be good for return passage until June 8, inclusive.

All Brickmaking Stopped.

Chicago, May 22.—Not a brick was made in Cook county to-day, every yard being closed in compliance with the order of the Brickmakers' alliance. Unless a compromise is effected within forty-eight hours all building operations in the city which are not independent of bricklayers, will be brought to a standstill. This means that thousands of men engaged in the building trades will be thrown out of employment. Three-fourths of the manufacturers have agreed to pay the union wages.

Strikers Charged With Riot.

Pittsburgh, May 22.—Four strikers of the standard mines were arrested to-day, charged with riot and unlawful assembly. Informations were made against twenty of the strikers and the others will pe arrested later. The isuits are the out come of the trouble with the non-union men which occurred on Mav 10. A large crowd of strikers gathered about the mines and threw stones at the tipple, frightening the non unionists so that they quit work.

Many Lives Lost.

London, May 22.—The Star publishes a report that a Spanish steamer has been wrecked off the Phillipine islands and persons drowned. Inquiry in regard to the report proves that it has reference to the Spanish steamer Gravanes reported May 20 as having been wrecked off Capones. No details are furnished.

Fire in Wilkesbarre.

Wilkesbarre, May 22.—E. Mackin's hotel Galseyel's meat market at the residence of P. Mackin and J Walsh, in Exeter borough, were destroyed bp fire to-day. Mr. Mackin, his family and the guests in the hotel barely escaped death. The entire loss will reach $8,000.

A ton of powder was stolen from the Blue Ridge works at Allentown.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Those Issued Open for the Inspection of the Public.

The dispute of the various counties of the state between newspaper reporters and the clerk of orphan's court, as to the publication of marriage licenses, has been settled by Governor Hastings, who has affixed his signature to the bill introduced into the legislature on May 14, and which passed finally at the session of the house yesterday. It was signed by the governor and returned with his approval a half hour after its passage.

The bill provides that every clerk of an orphans' court shall immediately after issuing any license for marriage in conformity with law enter the same upon the marriage license docket and said marriage license docket shall be open for inspection or examination by the public at all times during the hours when such office shall be open for the purpose of issuing marriage licenses. It shall be lawful for any person to make a copy or abstract of the entries contained in said marriage license docket or the purpose of publication in any regularly published daily or weekly newspaper and it shall be lawful to publish said copy for abstract in any regularly published daily or weekly newspaper printed within the commonwealth.

Section two provides that any clerk of an orphans' court who shall refuse or neglect to enter upon the marriage license docket any marriage license issued from his office immediately after it is issued, or shall fail to keep the marriage license docket open for inspection or examination by the public, or shall prevent any person from securing a copy or abstract of the entries in the marriage license docket for the purpose of publishing the same in any daily or weekly newspaper shall, upon conviction in either of the aforesaid cases before an alderman or justice of the peace be punished by a fine not exceeding $50 for each and every offense.

The May Frosts.

The remarkable and destructive character of the cold weather, which it is hoped terminated yesterday, is a subject of popular importance. Frosts in May are not unusual, but a succession of freezes and frosts as followed upon the hot spell of the early part of the month is unprecedented. The temperature of May 14 was the lowest on record for the second week in May since official observations have been made and since then the succession of frosty nights have increased the damage and emphasized the peculiar character of the May weather.

The result has been widespread damage to a large variety of products. Cotton and corn are alike reported as suffering injury. Winter wheat is widely damaged, while spring wheat is reported as having escaped damage by reason of its slight development. Fruits and vegetables are the most injured, grapes and peaches being apparently a total loss; pears, apples and cherries injured to a large extent and early vegetables injured in every case where they were set out.

The damage to the cereal crops may, it is to be hoped, be largely repaired by replanting. But that to fruits and early vegetables is a total loss. It is not to be feared that the country will suffer for lack of supplies; but the prosperity which was hoped for from the abundance promised before this stroke of the frosty fite is postponed. The misfortune is one of those inevitable ones, under which the only course possible is to make the best of it

The Granger's Picnic.

At a recent meeting of the Managers it was decided to hold the 22nd Annual Grangers' Picnic Exhibition at William's Grove, Cumberland County, Pa., August 26th to 31st, 1895, inclusive. It was also decided to make quite a number of improvements to the buildings and grounds. For full particulars relative to Cottages, Tents, Exhibit Space and Privileges address

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of Testimonials.

'A Friend in Need is a Friend Indeed.'

A friend advised me to try Ely's Cream Balm and after using it six weeks I believe myself cured of catarrh. It is a most valuable remedy.—Joseph Stewart, 624 Grand Avenue, Brookly, N. Y.

My son was afflicted with catarrh, I induced him to try Ely's Cream Balm and the disagreeable catarrhal smell all left him. He appears as well as any one.—J. C. Olmstead, Arcola. Ill.

Price of Cream Balm is fifty cents.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO.

How to Cure Yourself While Using the Weed.

The tobacco habit grows on a man until his nervous system is seriously affected, impairing health, comfort and happiness. To quit suddenly is too severe a shock to the system, as tobacco, to an inveterate user, becomes a stimulant that his system continually craves. Baco-Curo is a scientific cure for the tobacco habit, in all its forms, carefully conpounded after the formula of an eminent Berlin physician who has used it in his private practice since 1872, without a failure, purely vegetable and guaranteed perfectly harmless. You can use all the tobacco you want while taking Baco-Curo, it will notify you when to stop. We give a written guarantee to permanently cure any case with three boxes or refund the money with 10 per cent. interest. Baco-Curo is not a substitute, but a scientific cure, that cures without the aid of will power and with no inconvenience. It leaves the system as pure and free from nicotine as the day you took your first chew or smoke. Sold by all druggists, with our ironclad guarantee, at $1.00 per box, three boxes, (thirty days' treatment,) $2.50, or sent direct upon receipt of price. Send six two-cent stamps for sample box. Booklets and proofs free. Address, Eureka Chemical and Manufacturing company, Manufacturing Chemists, La Crosse, Wisconsin.

NEW DISCOVERY.

Among the many discoveries of the present age, none rank higher than the new metal silvereen, which owing to its great durability and cheapness is bound to take he place of silver in the manufacture of fine tableware.

Silvereen is a beautiful white metal, will not tarnish or rust, and all goods made from it are warranted.

We want every one to have a chance to compare silvereen with silver, so for the next sixty days we are going to give away one half dozen Crown Silver Tea Spoons Free, to every person who will send for one of our Terry's Silvereen sets, containing six Tea Spoons, one Sugar Shell, one Butter Knife. If at any time the Silvereen goods do not prove satisfactory, return them and your money will be refunded. Remember we give you the Silver Spoons.

Price of Silvereen set, $2.00. f7-2y.

A Smash Up.

On Saturday while Mr. G. W. Jackson's coachman was driving his spirited team of bays in a buggy, near Unionville, he had quite an accident. The neck yoke broke and the animals took fright and got away. The result was a badly smashed vehicle and the horses were somewhat bruised.

UNION SEMINARY BOYCOTTED.

Students of that Institution Cut Off from the Regular Avenue to the Ministry.

Pittsburg, May 23.—The many influences that are at work in this assembly to moilify the asperity of the ultra conservative have had their effect again to-day in respect to two important measures. Yesterday it was the foreign mission enthusiasm that checked the movement against the Briggs men in the board. The day before it was the presence of John Hall that saved his liberal associates in the home board.

To-day it was the ex-moderators who are here in unusual numbers. It was in the hearts of the conservative leaders at the outset of this assembly to accomplish the humiliation of Dr. Briggs. The sentence passed upon the condemned professor by the Washington assembly was suspension from the Presbyterian ministry to continue indefinitely unless the suspended minister shows contumacy or unless he recants and asks to be restored.

Dr. Briggs has never shown any disposition to recant and it is said that a clear case of contumacy has been prepared against him. Yet the conservative majority, which seems to be all powerful in this assembly, will do nothing to bring about the deposition of Dr. Briggs. It may be said that this has been definitely decided upon.

To-day the assembly struck its severest blow at Union Seminary by placing upon its students a boycott that cut them off entirely from the regular avenue of admission to the Presbyterian ministry. They accomplished this without debate and almost without opposition, although it was known for several days that such was to be the business to-day.

But there will be no attempt to depose the professor who has brought the assembly and its favorite seminary to these straits. The argument of those who have brought the leaders to this conclusion is not a question of the duty of the Presbyterian church in the premises, but merely a question of policy, of expediency.

It had also been arranged to present at the session to-morrow a strong deliverance upon the alliance of members of church boards with organizations that, like the Presbyterian league, are apparently in a rebellious attitude toward general assembly. But this plan has also been laid aside. No deliverance against entangling alliances with the Presbyterian leaguers need be expected.

At this afternoon's session, Moderator Booth named the special committee to consider the relations of the young people's societies. Rev. David R. Breed is chairman of this committee.

Commemorative exercises celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of the reunion of the new school and old school churches were held to-night in two churches. Both were crowded to suffocation.

Ordered to Guayaquil.

Washington, May 23.—The revolution in Ecuador has assumed so threatening an aspect that the Navy Department this afternoon cabled the Commander of the United States steamship Ranger to proceed with his vessel to Guayaquil. Press despatches telling of the recapture of Ezmeralda were confirmed by a cablegram received at the State Department to-day, and the Navy Department was informed with the result stated.

Guayaquil is situated on the Guayaquil river, and the ranger will be obliged to proceed about a hundred miles up that stream to reach the port, which has cable connection with the United States.

Demented Man's Strange Freak.

Pleasantville, N. J., May 23.—A demented man givigg his name as William Willis, of Philadelphia, who created a furore in this town yesterday by his antics, threw himself in front of a freight train on the Philadelphia and Atlantic City railroad last night and was cut to pieces. One of his exploits was rushing into a dwelling and telling a woman that he had just murdered her husband and wanted to wash his hands. The woman was almost crazed by the insane man's announcement.

JOHN MUIR, the Californian naturalist and geologist, has written for the June Century an account of the discovery of the largest glacier in the world, in Alaska, which bears his name. Mr. Muir made his voyage at the beginning of the winter season, and was accompanied only by a missionary and a party of Alaskan Indians. They were called upon to endure many hardships, and not a few dangers. Mr. Muir thinks that the rate of recession of the glaciers is much more rapid than is generally believed. He holds that the great Glacier Bay is entirely the growth of this century, as Vancouver's chart, made a hundred years ago, has no trace of it.

More Gunboats for Cuba.

Madrid, May 24.—Two more gunboats will leave Spain for the island of Cuba o-morrow. The papers found upon the body of Jose Marti, the insurgent leader who was killed at the battle of Boca de Dos Rioz are of great importance to the Spanish authorities, and it is believed that they will lead to the arrest of prominent persons who are shown to have been giving aid to the insurgents.

A system of retrenchment has begun in the works of Core Brothers, 25 mechanics at Drifton having been suspended yesterday.

ODD FELLOWS' DOING.

The Next Session of the Grand Lodge Will Be in Pittsburg in 1896.

Philadelphia, May 23.—The grand lodge of Independent Order of Old Fellows of Pennsylvania resumed its annual session today, Grand Master Neall presiding. A number of appeals cases remaining over from yesterday were disposed of. The committee on claims submitted a report against the resolution which had been referred to it, providing for the levying of a tax for the support of Odd Fellows' home. The committee expressed the opinion that the system of voluntary contributions had not been given a fair trial and that a tax could not be imposed except by an amend ment to the constitution for subordinate lodges.

Germania lodge, No. 150, of Reading, that does its work in the German tongue, asked permission for the use of the ritual in English so that both could be used.

The next annual session of the grand lodge will be held in Pittsburg.

AN ALTOONA WOMAN ELECTED PRESIDENT.

At this afternoon's session of the state assembly of Rebekah lodges the following officers were elected: President Mrs T. G. Hayes, of Altoona; vice president, Mrs. Sarah Louisa Erdman, of Philadelphia; secretary, Mrs. Mary Joslyn, of Philadelphia; treasurer, Mrs. Jane Lyon, Mahonoy City. This evening the Pennsylvania beautified work was exemplified in the auditorium of the new temple, after which the Rebekahs had a banquet in the temple, and then adjourned.

Started on a March.

Pittsburg, May 23—Five hundred coal miners employed by the Robbins Company in the first Monongahela river pool, suspended work to-day and started on the march to work at the Pittsburg and Chicago mines. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Patrick Doolan, of the District Executive Board, and in view of the excitement throughout the district the Sheriff was called upon to send deputies to protect property at the Snowden and New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company mines.

The miners at the Robbins works were the first to resume at the sixty cent rate, and were working under an iron-clad agreement.

A big mass meeting of miners is in progress at Bowe Hill on the Pan Handle. Serious trouble may follow the adjournment of this meeting.

Held its Final Session.

Gettysburg, May 23.—The Gettysburg Battlefield Memorial Association, which was organized in 1864, held its final session last night. As its Directors voted to transfer to the United States government all of the association's possessions on this battle field comprising about 800 acres of land. This course was directed at a stockholders' meeting last month.

A banquet followed the adjournment, at which Major Gen. D. Sickles, United States Army, retired, presided. Speeches were made by Vice President Buchler, Gen. A. Webb, of New York; Major W. Robbins, of North Carolina, the confederate member of the Government Gettysburg Commission; General Louis Wagner, Philadelphia; Inter-State Commissioner Veasey Major General D. McGregg and J. Vanderslice.

That Lamb Street Bridge.

At last there are some hopes of having the new bridge on Lamb street completed in time for the Bellefonte centennial. The original contractors, R. McCafferty & Son, were not sizing up to the requirements of the contract and, at a special meeting of council, the work of building the bridge abutments was taken from him, by the advice and consent of his bondsmen, and the power given to the Street Committee to go ahead and have the same built as quickly as possible. This they will do and, it is more than likely the contract will now go to James McCafferty. The work will be pushed as fast as possible to insure a good job and the abutments may yet be completed within a week. Then it will take but a few days to put on the superstructure and lay the floor, and all will be done.

Young People Not Wanted.

The following card from the Undine Fire Company Committee on Ball is self-explanatory:

EDITOR DAILY NEWS:—Will you kindly convey through the colums of your paper the following request: That all persons under sixteen years of age, of both sexes, be kept at home, or at least from the armory, on the night of the Undine Fire Co's ball. We have issued invitations to all that are known and will likely come, and any who come there will be expected to present their invitation or they will not be admitted. And, besides, while the building is large, it will, we are satisfied, be small enough for those who will attend and are over sixteen years of age.

Yours truly,
Committee on Ball.

An Editor Defined.

Some boys were asked the other day to define "editor." Here are some of their definitions: "An editor is a man who words." "An editor makes his living out of the English language." "An editor is somebody who does not do anything himself and when somebody else does, goes and tells other people all about it."

"An editor is a man who has the industry of a beaver, the instincts of a bee and the patience of an ass."

THE MONEY PROBLEM.

Mr. Arthur Kitson's Lecture Thursday Evening.

The lecture Thursday evening in the Presbyterian chapel on the "Money Question," by Mr. Kitson, was very interesting and instructive and was truly worthy of a much larger audience. The fairly good number who attended were highly pleased and were unanimous in pronouncing the lecture an exceedingly clear elucidation of the money doctrines held to-day and their prominent points of weakness. The blockwood illustrations were perfectly a propos and aided Mr. Kitson materially in the presentation of the theories. The speaker seemed to be a thorough master of his subject, is fluent in his language and pleasing in his manner. The introduction of the lecture showed that the question in hand was by no means partisan in character, but one pertaining to the highest and best interest of every individual.

The chief cause of the ills of to-day was a scarcity of money in the hands of the consumers. The higher the wages and the greater the circulation of money, the brisker the trade is. It's a bad system that keeps the money in the hands of a few. The system that will make money circulate most generally is the desirable one to-day. The two leading doctrines are monometallism, in which gold is taken as the standard of value, and bimetallism, which champions the free coinage of both gold and silver in a fixed proportion. The system based on gold was characterized as a robbery. Gold is not staple, but fluctuating in its value, and therefore should not be made the standard. Neither can it be used as currency, for with $20,000,000,000 of debts on hand and $500,000,000 of gold available it is impossible to pay these obligations in the would be standard. Business is only fastened and kept up because with but a dollar to pay we make ten promises.

In the bi-metal theory the compensatory advantage is a great one and the danger of panics less than in the gold system. In the latter the money is held by a few who can produce fluctuation at will and bring on a panic as history shows has been done several times in the past. The lecturer claimed further that the evils in monometallism exceeded those of bimetallism and discussed them all in detail. The Coxey scheme for the construction and improvement of public roads, thereby affording employment for thousands, was one of the best financial schemes ever suggested and was probably ignored because of the source whence emanated the suggestion. The functions of money were clearly presented and then Mr. Kitson proceeded to advance his own theory as to the system which would best fulfill those functions. The paper currency he favored, and he upheld his position in a very forcible manner. He showed by illustrations from his history that it was paper currency that had come to the rescue of the country in her hours of need and it can do so again.

Money is a medium, a measure of value itself. So that paper money, easier and cheaper to make, fulfills all the functions of silver or gold and with many points of advantage in its favor. The lecturer was very exhaustive, considering the short time allotted. We hope Mr. Kitson may be persuaded to lecture again on the same subject, and if he does, we bespeak him a very large audience. Such lectures are elevating as well as instructive and we need more of them.

Reduced Rates to Gettysburg, Pa., via Pennsylvania Railroad.

For the accomodation of those who desire to witness the decoration exercises at Gettysburg, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell on May 29 and 30 excursion tickets from New York City and all stations in Pennsylvania and New Jersey to Gettysburg and return at one and one-third fares for the round trip, good for return passage until May 31, inclusive. This will make the round trip rates as follows: New York, $8.73; Trenton, $6.47; Philadelphia, $5.40; Pittsburg, $10.93; Williamsport, $5.53; proportionate rates from other points.

A Farmer's Experience.

A farmer tried an experiment last year, says an exchange, to see whether potatoes paid him best sold from the field at current price, or stored till spring. He put away 100 bushels 60 pounds to the bushel. In April he weighed them and found they had shrunken to 83 bushels. After sorting there remained 68. These at 60 cents per bushel brought $46.80; and for the same he could have gotten in the field at the time of digging $75. In addition cartage would have been saved, interest on money and valuable time in the spring.

Two Weddings.

On Wednesday June 11th, two weddings will take place in Centre county: Mr. G. H. Moore and Miss Erba Noll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Noll, of Milesburg, will be married at the home of the bride's parents at 6 o,clock p. m. M. David Bailey and Miss Jennie E. Jacobs, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jacobs, will assume the marriage tie at Eagle Chapel, Roland, at 7:30 p. m., that day. Quite a number of invitations have been issued and the chapel will be crowded.

Replanting the Corn.

The farmers in some parts of the county are replanting their corn. In some cases the seed rotted in the ground while in others the farmers prefer to replant rather than run the risk of frost bitten plants making a good crop.

In a Critical Condition.

We regret to learn that the illness with which Mr. Henry Noll, of Pleasant Gap, has been suffering for the past two months, has developed so rapidly that his life is now despaired of. James, who is in collector Herring's office at Scranton, and Dr. Samuel, a recent graduate of the Medico-Chirurgical college in Philadelphia, were both telegraphed for and arrived here Wednesday to be at the bed side o their father.

Farm Sold.

The Sankey farm about two miles west of Centre Hall, was sold on Tuesday to Mr. G. W. Glase, of Cataract, Clearfield county, for $3,500. The farm is now occupied by Porter Odenkirk, and Mr. Glase will take possession next spring.

The U. B. church will keep a first-class estaurant during the Centennial in Bellefonte, June 5th, 6th and 7th, in the lecture room of their church on the corner of High and Thomas streets. They will serve three good meals a day, and will furnish nice sandwiches, hot coffe, bananas, ice cream and cake at a moment's notice during the three days. Please come around frequently and make yourself at home with us. We will be glad to see you and will treat you well.

By order of Committee.

Twenty years in the penitentiary was the sentence imposed upon James Hendricks, convicted at Wilkes-Barre of complicity in the murder of Barney Reick.

Simplified Elocution.

A new book, bearing the above title, by Edwin Gorden Lawrence, teacher of elocution and director of the Lawrence School of Acting, has just been issued. Simplified Elocution is a comprehensive system of vocal and physical gymnastics; it contains explicit instructions for the cultivation of the speaking voice and gesture: directions for the production of breath, sound and speech, and a thorough explanation of the muscles and organs employed; rules for tieulation, modulation, emphasis and delivery; postures and movements of the feet, body, arms, head, eyes, etc.

To the treatise is added a Complete Speaker, consisting of selection in poetry and prose suitable for recitation, which, as the author says in his introduction, "are not chosen on account of their newness, but from their intrinsic merit and their adapability as exercises."

The work is designed for the special use of teachers, actors students, colleges, schools, and all those who wish to perfect themselves in the noble art of expression.

The book which contains 222 pages, is handsomely bound in cloth and gold, and will be sent postage free on receipt of $1.00 [New York: published by the author, 106 West 42nd Street.]

A New Volume.

This Easter issue is the initial number of Volume XIII of Munsey's Magazine. The volume just closed has the distinction of having shown a greater gain—a vastly greater gain—in circulation than any single volume of a magazine in the whole wide world has ever had. It started with the October issue with a circulation of a quarter of a million, and ended with the March issue with half a million. The increase in these six months alone represents a larger circulation than that of any other magazine either in the old world or the new, while the total circulation of Munsey's is in excess of the combined circulation of any other four magazines in America.

THE STANDARD DICTIONARY, published by Funk & Wagnalls Company, of New York, is receiving a warm welcome from learned men and women all over the world. We publish a few comments from newspaper men and others in praise of this great work. We will also add that any person who will call at the house of the Editor of the REPUBLICAN can see copies of this truly remarkable work.

Hon. Justin McCarthy, M. P., the eminent historian, London, Apr 15, 1895: "The standard Dictionary is the most complete work of the kind I have known. It is a whole library in itself. I consult it daily—and I not merely consult it, I read page after page for the mere pleasure of the reading."

The London Times, England, April 5, 1895, says: "The merits of the Funk & Wagnalls Standard Dictionary are indisputable, and are abundantly attested by a large number of unimpeachable authorities. It is a remarkably fine specimen of American co-operative literature, and should command a wide and deserved popularity."

Daily Post, Liverpool, April 8, 1895: "It shows in many respects a vast advance upon any of its predecessors. . . . It is at once the most comprehensive and compact of any dictionary it has been our fortune to notice."

Scotsman, Edinburg, April 1, 1895: "Perhaps the most important point about it is the last dictionary published, and though in every sense an original work, has been able to take advantage of all the work of prior English and American lexicographers. Different dictionaries suit different sorts of libraries; but it is not rash to say that the man or library which owns the "Standard" need not have any other."

Christian Commonwealth, London, April 10, 1895: "It certainly first-class in every respect. . . As regards accuracy, there can be no doubt about its superiority. . . It is perfection itself. . . . It is rather a curious and somewhat startling fact that no really first-class dictionary of the English language has yet been produced in this country. In view of this fact, the people of this country ought to be thankful to the enterprising American firm which has produced the "Standar Dictionary."

The editor of the Review of Reviews gives his testimony based on personal observation, to the success of the South Carolina system. "Drunkenness and disorder," he says, "have decreased to a remarkable extent; and whereas the negro laborer was formerly accustomed to spend his week's earnings in carousing on Saturday night and Sunday, he is now spending more upon his family, or else saving his money to buy land.

Table Talk—The May issue of Table Talk is as full as ever with subjects devoted to the culinary art and household interests. This is a magazine every housekeeper should have, in fact, it should be in family in the country, and cannot fail to be of interest to all and an education to every one who has anything todo with housekeeping. A GREAT COUGH REMEDY.

Perhaps you may think that Scott's Emulsion is only useful to fatten babies, to round up the angles and make comely and attractive, lean and angular women, and fill out the hollow cheeks and stop the wasting of the consumptive, and enrich and vitalize the blood of the scrofulous and anæmic persons. It will do all this—but it will do more. It will cure a

WEEKLY FINANCIAL REVIEW.

From our Regular Correspondent.

NEW YORK, May 25, 1895.

My readers will bear me witness that I was the first to sound the death-knell to the bear market, on March 5th last, the day following the adjournment of Congress when I proclaimed that the time had arrived to buy everything and sell nothing. I then said there was no stock dealt in on the Stock Exchange so poor that it would not advance conspicuously from that time forward. I was governed by the fact that the worst Congress for the business interests of the nation had adjourned and gone into final liquidation, and they would no longer continue to drive the industries of the nation into the hands of receivers. I also took into consideration the fact that the gold scare was about to culminate, because the hunt for gold had commenced to result in increased production, the world's output of which would amount for the coming year to probably $200,000,000, with the prospects of its yearly increase for some time to come. The effect of the gold discoveries in South Africa, which has made such a speculative craze in mining shares on the London Exchange and the Continential Bourses, has been to revive business in every direction and carry Europe out of a rut of depression which started at the time of the Baring failure in 1890. This country is bound to benefit under the influence growing out of increased gold production both here and elsewhere, and a revival of business interests could not possible have a sounder bottom to rest upon than that of the yellow metal About $45,000,000 of gold will be taken out of the African mines probably this year. The properties connected therewith are now selling on the London market on a basis of $600,000,000. The production of gold this year in this country is steadily on the increase, especially in Colorado, Montana and Idaho, and will soon be the basis of a gold inflation craze in this country not unlike what is now being exerienced in London and elsewhere. It is important to consider that the world's output of gold hereafter, amounting to about $300,000,000 (and likely to increase year after year), will mostly all of it perform the functions of money, and no part of it is likely to go into the war chests of the European nations, as heretofore, as they nave now all accumulated there full emergency supply. Another important feature to take into consideration is that the supply of money now in this country amounts to $24 per capita as against the time of the panic of 1872 when it was $17 per capita, and going still further back to the panic of 1857 when it was only $15 per capita. When prosperity again reigns supreme in this country, which will soon probably be the case, judging from present appearances, there will be a sufficient return of confidence to make the circulation of this $24 per capita so rapid as to possible make our present volume of circulating medium excessive. When this occurs, which will be very soon in my opinion, it will do more than anything else to kill the present Western and Southern silver craze. This $24 per capita in money will be added to each year beyond doubt by at least $50,000,000 of this country's product of gold. This will soon satisfy even those who are now calling for more silver money, that the country's supply of money will be ample to go around without pilnting our money by opening the mints to free silver coinage, or by any other very questionable means of increasing this country's supply of money. Gold is this country's standard and must so continue, to enable it to stand abreast with other first-class nations. "United we stand, divided we fall." To admit of our maintaining our present proud supremacy amongst the nations of the world, the best metal is none too good for this country as the standard basis for money, and that is gold and only gold. Gold is one of our products, and we of all nations should utilize it for all it is worth and recognize it as supreme. No country can afford to do so better than ours.

Railroads in this country like the New York Central whose credit admits of their selling their treasury securities in Europe, as the New York Central has done, will be likely to do so one after the other. This money will go into extensions, improvements and repairs; which will give employment to labor and make a demand for supplies; and nothing will add to the general business activity of the country more than such expenditures. There is enough of this kind of railroad disbursement needed to make good times for a long time to come. It was nearly three years since the New York Central Directors voted to sell the treasury shares of the company at 100. A part was disposed of, but there has been no time since until now when the 45,000 shares left on hand could be sold in this country or in Europe at par value. This negotiation, which is reported to have been made at 102½ in London, must be put in evidence as showing the return of confidence abroad in American securities after an absence of it for three years. The most remarkable feature in connection with this sale of stock was the immediate advance of New York Central shares 4 per cent. in this market. If the situation had warranted a bear attack, one would certainly have followed the announcement of this negotiation, and in that case it would probably have been a fall of 4 per cent. instead of an advance. If the bears had felt sure of their position, they wouldn't have wanted a stronger point to sell on than the fact that New York Central had increased its capital stock. Instead of their forcing the market down on the announcement, the bulls took the initiative and marked the price up, to the consternation of the shorts, made about sixty days ago in the 90s, and compelled them to cover at the dvanced price.

HENRY CLEWS.

The Mattern Reunion.

The committee of arrangements for the Mattern family reunion, which will occur at Warriorsmark on the 13th of June, met in Tyrone Friday afternoon and transacted considerable business, leaving only some detail work, to be done by sub-committees, to make the arrangements complete. Hon. John W. Mattern, of Huntingdon, Rev. John A. Mattern, of Newton Hamilton, John B. Mattern, of Buffalo Run, John S. Mattern, of Seven Stars, and Jacob H. Mattern, of Warriorsmark, are those of the committee outside of Tyrone who were present.

The picnic will be a basket one, and it will be perfectly proper for members of the family connection to invite their friends to join in the day's outing. A committee on transportation is now in communication with the railroad authorities, and convenient transportation arrangements along the entire line of the Tyrone and Lewisburg railroad will be announced very soon. The program of exercises for a portion of the day will be arranged and announced in a few days also. It will consist of music, addresses, recitations, etc. The historical committee is making every effort to make that work as complete as possible. It is pretty well established that the Mattern family originated in Switzerland, and it is also about settled that there are two thousand or more descendents of the first Matter a settler in this country.

All hands are looking forward to a great deal of pleasure on this occasion, and it is expected that not less than one thousand and possibly nearly two thousand people will be present. A permanent association will in all probability be formed and meetings will likely occur regularly at least every few years in the future.

A NEW story by Rudyard Kipling, reating the adventure of an American in England; a fantastic "Tale of Revenge" by Robert Barr; and a brave story of adventure by Stanley J. Weyman, akin in its time and setting to Mr. Weyman's popular novel, "A Gentleman of France," in themselves gives the June number of McClure's Magazine special distinction. But there is no lack of other significant matter. What men and machinery accomplish, and how they are sometimes blown to pieces, in the du Pont powder-mills; and how that "stupendous aggregation" of tents and wonders, the modern circus, gets planted in the fields at daybreak and crammed into the cars at midnight, are the subjects of two illustrated papers by Cleveland Moffett. This with much other matter of great interest to every reader makes the June number of this excellent magazine a jewell to be sought after by every intelligent person. S. S. McClure, Ltd., No. 30 Lafayette Place, New York City.

Not by His Orders.

An interview with Senator Quay elsewhere denies that he gave orders for the defeat of the apportionment bills. The bill was killed by the votes of his friends the Senator admits, but he had nothing to do with it, and presumes that they did it for reasons of their own.

This statement only emphasizes the remarkable attitude of the legislators to their constitutional duty and the primary requisite of just representation. Since they had no instructions, it seems that the legislators must have followed their own disposition to ignore the constitution, which they have sworn to "support, obey and defend." We are thereby led to the conclusion that the innate depravity of the legislators elected under Senator Quay's system is responsible for the deliberate denial of equal representation.

With the disclosure of the fact that it is not by Senator Quay's order that honest apportionment is defeated, it is possible that the measures may be resuscitated and passed. Will the Senator bring that long-distance telephone into play and instruct his friends to fulfill their sworn duty to obey the Constitution?

Their "Decoration" Day.

The Tyrone correspondent of the Altoona Times thus tells how Main's circus observed Sunday by decorating the graves of those who were killed in the wreck May 30th, 1893:

At 2 o'clock in the afternoon Rev. Dr. Furbay, representatives of the press, Mr. Main and his officials with their wives in carriages were followed to the Tyrone cemetery by the 400 circus employes, headed by their band, which played sacred dirages en route.

The cemetery was also occupied by a good portion of Tyrone and surrounding populations. Over the graves of the wreck's dead—William Heverly, of Tyrone, train brakeman; William Lee, of Lincoln, Neb., circus laborer, and Barney Mullaney, of New York, circus laborer, were conducted services, which brought tears to the eyes of many, and the realization of "Be ye ready, you know not the day or the hour."

Following a piece by the band the hymn 'Rock of Ages' was sung after which prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. Furbay. Another piece by the band was followed by singing the anthem, "Where is My Wandering Boy To-night," after which Dr. Furbay, by special invitation, briefly addressed the assemblage. Dr. Furbay took advantage of the opportunity by giving a religious talk to this large number of circus employes, a people or a class whose continual wandering leads many of them to neglect of, if not entirely forgetting, worship to God. He spoke sincerely and plainly as their friend, recalled the great danger they daily faced and the unprepared life for eternity many of them no doubt were leading. There is little doubt that Dr. Furbay's talk touched a chord, the vibrations of which reached the hearts of many, and caused them to consider the futurity of their souls.

He closed his remarks by inviting all to attend his church at the evening service and the goodly number that accepted his invitation is evidence of the appreciation of his words. The three graves were then decorated with abundance of fragrant flowers, which had been provided by Mr. Main and carried to the cemetery by his lady attaches.

With the band playing "Nearer My God to Thee" the employes marched in single file, viewing the graves, after which the large gathering returned to town.

Care of Umbrellas.

When an umbrella is wet the water should be allowed to drip over the handle end, as it soon rots the ferrule where the material lies thick when closed. To clean the handle, wipe off with a damp cloth, or, if it be a silver handle, give it an occasional cleaning as a silver spoon would require. Clean black goods with ammonia and water, and remove spots from colored material with naphtha.

In order to prevent untimely cracks of the folds in the center of each gore keep the umbrella unfurled when not in use. In furling it grasp it firmly in the right hand, holding the ends of the ribs which should never be twisted; then fold over the material and catch it smoothly under the band. The band of elastic holding the engraved silver shield, which is now such a favorite, should be occasionally renewed and the shield itself be kept clean and bright.

THE Postmaster General is credited with formulating an order requiring letter carriers and substitutes, to bow in recognition of the Postmaster and his assistant whenever they meet upon the street or elsewhere outside the office. How much Jeffersonian Democracy is there embodied in such an order? Will some followers of the early fathers answer? The idea must have crept into Wilson's head when he was feted by the free trade clubs of London.

What is CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

Be a Man.

There is a homely adage, a little slangy, it is true, but none the less fitting of the point we wish to express—"Be a man or a monkey," says an exchange. If those who are averse to the dissemination of slang are offended, they can eliminate the slang and leave, "Be a man or a simian." However, it makes no difference, for all can be suited.

Don't tote water on both shoulders. Have the courage of your convictions. If you haven't got any convictions, go off and die, for a man without convictions has no place in society, but is regarded as a jellyfish that floats hither and thither with every tide or breeze.

If it isn't too late you might set about having some convictions. If they are inconsistent with facts as you see them round about, you can, at least, be staunch to them and consistent even to the inconsistency of them.

Be, at least, something that will define you in the thoughts of other men. Don't be afraid of disagreeing with other men. You have as much right to your opinions, and to express them as they. It may make enemies of them, but the respect of an enemy is more to be sought after than the contempt of a friend; and where is the man who amounts to a tinker's trinket who has not his enemies? Very often the number and character of these enemies is what raises him higher in the estimation of that part of the public whose estimation is worth seeking.

The consistent man, the man with opinions, the man who doesn't obtrude them, yet who expresses them fearlessly when occasion demands, is honest to himself and to all others. He stands in society with well defined characteristics, a land mark as bold as the rock of Gibraltar.

Secretary F. H. Cota.

Col. Dunham, who writes the biographies for the Howard Hornet, has the following in this week about a deserving Bellefonter:

Secretary of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A., F. H. Cota, was born in Cheshire, Conn., July 24, 1863. He received his education at the Episcopal academy of his native place. He began Young Men's Christian association work as assistant secretary at New Haven, Conn., and remained there four years. In March, 1890, was called to the general secretaryship of Y. M. C. A., of Greensboro, N. C., remaining in that place three years. In March, 1893, he accepted the secretaryship of the Long Branch, N. J., association, but in September of the same year a larger field of usefulness being opened up, he accepted the secretaryship of the Bellefonte association, where successful, progressive and all around work has been done; restoring the association to the confidence and support of the christian people and business men of the community. He has also regenerated the gymnasium attached to the association's rooms, and many young people who attend can thank Mr. Cota for the robust health they now enjoy, produced by athletic training at his hands.

What is remarkable is the fact that Secretary Cota is the only person that has remained with the association more than one year. The present outlook for the work is prosperous.

Didn't Like Him Any More.

The editor of the Mt. Jewet Herald is a funny fellow and his paper is full of quain and original things. Here is one of his latest:

Can any one tell why the fellow who is mad all through at the editor, on account of something that has been published in the columns of the paper, after ranting around town for a day or two about what he will do "when he has time to go to the office," always finds it convenient to call when the editor is out; prefers facing the devil to the editor? We have held down this chair for something over a year, and in that time we have felt called upon on several occasions to jab tender spots in what was otherwise a tough case, and in each instance we have been notified of the impending calamity that was bound to overtake us. But to date, the only man who has put in an appearance when we were "at home" was a woman, who, as she quietly dropped a quarter of a dollar on the corner of our desk which squared her account and extended her hand for a receipt, remarked, "I don't like you any more."

The striking miners in the bituminous regions in the western part of the State seem determined to make the blunder so common in nearly all these large strikes. They are not content with having exercised their own right to refuse to work, but are preparing for a riotous demonstration to prevent others from working in their place. It is not necessary to make any argument on this point. If one set of men refuse to work for any reason whatever and the mine owners can employ others they have an entire right to do it. Any attempt to interfere by force with this right is lawlessness and riot and necessarily will be treated as such. The situation seems to be full of menace but the talk about calling out the National Guard is altogether premature. It will be time enough to do that when it is found that the striking miners are incapable of a little sober second thought. If they will give a few moments to reviewing the more impressive features of past strikes they will be careful to keep the peace.

BUSHNELL NOMINATED.

On the Sixth Ballot He was Chosen by Ohio Republicans.

Zanesville, O., May 28.—With cheers for McKinley and Foraker and ovation for John Sherman that brought a suspicious moisture into the eyes of that venerable statesman, accostumed though he has been to the adulation of his Ohio brethren, the republican state convention inaugurated its business this afternoon. It was one of the largest conventions that has ever responded to the call of the party managers. Five thousand people were packed into Memorial hall, when the doors were closed on a crowd that would in itself have made a respectable assemblage.

Senator Sherman was given a tremendous ovation when he appeared.

When State Chairman Bonner called the convention to order a few minutes past 2 o'clock, his voice was scarcely audible above the din raised by the partisans of Ohio's big three and finally Senator Sherman assumed the gavel and without the formality of an introduction reprimanded the convention like a parent chiding a child for its misbehavior.

Senator Sherman spoke with considerable energy, and his references to the currency question were loudly applauded. Warm greetings were also given to his naming of McKinley as Ohio's presidential candidate and Foraker as her next Senator. As soon as he had concluded, General Harst, of Chillicothe, was on his feet with a resolution for a night session, when the motion was put there were few dissenting voices and after the roll of districts had been called for members of the various committees and the Toledo contest had been referred to the committee on credentials, the convention took a recess until 8 p. m.

Nominations for governor were in order at 8.30 and speeches were limited to five minutes with no seconds.

The vote on the sixth and nominating ballot was: Asa S. Bushnell, 505; Nash, 201; Hoyt, 11; Kiefer, 5; Nevens, 1.

Zanesville. O., May 28.—Just as the convention was about to adjourn, Governor Foster approached with the report of the committee on resolutions and which will be presented at the morning session.

Bedford County Republicans.

Bedford, Pa., May 28.—At the republican county convention to-day Captain Isaiah J. Connelly, of Schelburg, was nominated for associate judge, Lewis Pittman for county surveyor, John Deremer for director of the poor, A. J. Zeth, of Hopewell, and W. Scott Mullin, of Hyndman, as delegates to state convention, and ex-County Treasurer D. W. Prosser as chairman of the county committee. Defeated candidates complain that they had no show. The "nays" were given no chance to express themselves and the entire nomination was in accordance with a "cut and dried" formula previously prepared.

Chicago Morals vs. Bloomers.

Chicago, May 28.—An ordinance was introduced in the City Council here last night which is to prevent women from wearing bloomers or knickerbockers within the city limits. The ordinance recites that "this craze has assumed such proportions that it menaces the public morals of this good city," that "it is unhealthy, unAmerican, and unladylike for women to appear in such costumes." The ordinance proposes a fine for every woman caught upon the streets without the conventional "skirt." It caused considerable amusement in the council, and was laid over.

Coal Mining for June.

New York, May 28.—General coal agents after canvassing the situation thoroughly this afternoon, agreed to mine during the month of June three days out of each week, which will result in the production of about 3,500,000 tons. This is the same amount that was mined during the present month—no change being made for June. Prices, although forming a subject of much discussion, were not altered, the May schedule being agreed upon as a good basis for June sales.

The Midland Booming.

Osterburg, Pa., May 28.—The Midland is beginning to boom and J. W. Rutherford, one of the contractors is here making arrangements. Shanties will be built this week. The engineers commenced work to-day, in charge of U. S. Houck. Three new engines for the construction and use of the road will be here early next week. Then work will be resumed and pushed with vigor. The old debts of the company are being satisfied and all things are beginning to boom.

Acting through the blood, Hood's Sarsaparilla not only cures scrofula, salt rheum, etc., but gives health and vigor to the whole body.

Sued for $200,000 Damages.

Wilkesbarre, May 28.—George W. Shonk, J. W. Eno and John L. Shonk, of Plymouth; John C. Haddock, of New York, and Jennie Reynolds, Clara Reynolds and H. B. Reynolds, of Kingston, with Laura Dickson, of Wilkesbarre, have brought suit against the Kingston Coal company and Daniel Edwards to recover $200,000 damages. It is claimed by the plaintiffs that the defendants have been trespassing upon their coal property for some months past.

Followed Advice and Was Cured.

In speaking of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, Mrs. James E. Beach, of Rosendale, N. Y. says: "About seven years ago I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so sick and helpless, I could not walk a step. My physician could do me no good, so I began to use Dr. Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and from the very first dose I could see improvement, and it entirely cured me. My husband used it for dyspepsia with excellent result." Favorite Remedy dissolves the excess of uric acid in the blood, thus curing the disease. Such ailments as rheumatism, dyspepsia, kidney, liver and urinary troubles, and the ills peculiar to women, all arise from this cause, and are cured by Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy.

Crop Report.

Washington, May 28.—The weekly crop report of the agricultural bureau says:

Cotton has suffered seriously especially on sandy soil, and is reported as dying in portions of the Carolinas, Georgia, Mississippi and Arkansas, compliments of injury from lice are reported from Louisiana and Mississippi. Florida reports cotton late, but healthy.

Replanting of corn has been general during the week, owing to damaging effects of the recent frosts. In Indiana most of the crop had to be replanted. Kansas reports corn doing well, and in Nebraska the early planted is in good condition.

Winter wheat is reported as in good condition in Northern Illinois, but in poor condition in the central and southern portions of the state. The condition of wheat has declined rapidly in Missouri owing to drought and insects. In Indiana some wheat has been plowed and planted in corn and the crop has sustained further injury from frost in Ohio. Reports from state summarized: Pennsylvania—Considerable fruit unhurt; losses probably overstated; much corn replanted; grain and grass improving; cut worms plentiful and damaging.

Debs Surrenders.

Chicago May 28.—E. Debs who arrived in this city from Terre Haute this morning, called on United States Marshals this afternoon and delivered himself into the custody of the Marshals. The latter told him that he did not expect the mandate from Washington for a week or more, and until he received it, the men were at liberty on their bonds. Mr. Debs then left with the Marshals in his itinerary for the next ten days.

That Seventy-Third Anniversary.

The arrangements for the celebration of the 73 anniversary of the founding of the Milesburg Baptist Church are in progress, and the anniversary will be held on Sunday, August 18th, services being held from August 15th to 23d. The following committees will have charge:

Committee of Arrangements—Deacons J. S. Pownall, H. Dyke and Henry Heaton. The same brethren will be the Pulpit Committee.

Committee on Entertainment—J Swartz Oscar Shope, Miss Sue Gregg, Mrs. McMullen, Mrs. Shirk, Mrs. Moore, Mrs. Oscar Miles and Mrs. Boileau.

Committee on Church History—J. S. Pownall, Miss Julia Gregg and Miss Ella Levy.

Committee on Printing—H. Dyke and Henry Heaton.

Committee on Selection of Ministers—J. S. Pownall, H. Dyke and Henry Heaton.

His Views on the Fruit Crop.

A gentleman of Lock Haven, who makes frequent trips to all parts of the county states that he had examined many trees in several orchards in this county. His conclusions as to the yield of fruit from present indications are, that the apple yield will be fair, the pear yield will be short, and the cherries will not come to the average. He states further that owing to many of the peach trees being frozen last winter and the recent frosts damaging the buds, peaches will be below the average, if not a failure. He also stated that the wheat and grass are now growing finely, while the oats were very much behind.

Bellefonte Centennial.

All persons in the county, outside of the borough delivery, having articles of interest to loan for the exhibition to be made by the Committee on Relics, are requested to send them on Friday next or between then and the following Wednesday, by express, addressed to "The Committee on Relics, North Ward School House, Bellefonte, Pa.

Express charges will be paid by the committee. They will be carefully preserved and safely returned to the owners, with the thanks of the committee. If persons who cannot conveniently express articles will notify the undersigned as to what they have to offer we will send for them.

THE KNIGHTS TEMPLAR.

Reading in a Blaze of Glory to Welcome the Commanderies.

Reading, May 28.—Ideal weather, gorgeous decorations, plaudits from admiring thousands were features that served to make to-day's annual parade and review of the Knight Templar of Pennsylvania one long to be remembered. Reading never looked lovelier than it did this morning after the showers of the past few days and her pent up beauty was all the more appreciated by the thousands who thronged the streets, sidewalks, balconies and windows along the route of parade. The parade was composed of three divisions and moved promptly at 10.45, headed by Mayor Shanaman and forty mounted patrolmen and it required fifty minutes for the splendid pageant to pass a given point. The manouverings of the commanderies elicited much favorable comment from the crowds which lined the route and they pronounced the procession a big success by their frequent and hearty applause. Grand Commander Wagner, of Norristown, reviewed the parade from his horse, the Knights saluting as they passed.

Three veterans who witnessed the parade with a great deal of pleasure were: Wm. Chatland, aged 84, of St. Omer commandery, Bloomsburg: Christian Knapp, aged 75, of Bloomsburg, oldest past commander and Dr. Stockton, aged 80 of Philadelphia who is the oldest Templar in point of membership.

The sessions of the grand commandery was opened at the Academy of Music at 3 p. m. with a large attendance, Mayor Shanaman, who is a sir knight, delivering the address of welcome; Grand Commander Wagner responded on behalf of the visitors and expressed his hearty appreciation of the welcome received. The afternoon business consisted principally of reports and the nomination of officers. The election takes place to-morrow.

The concert and full dress reception at the Academy of Music to-night was one of the most complete and elaborate affairs of its kind ever held in this city. Magnificent gowns were worn by the ladies and the decorations were grand. The full Germania orchestra furnished the music.

The Dead Secretary.

The intelligence that Secretary Gresham is dead will arouse a heartfelt sentiment of sympathy and sorrow from one end of the country to the other. In the presence of the King of Terrors the petty enmities of politics disappear before the better thoughts of human sympathy and free recognition of high character and public usefulness.

The Public career of Walter Q. Gresham is one of which the country must be proud and which will make his death a grievous loss. As a soldier he was brave, faithful and knightly; as a cabinet officer he established beyond question the qualities of efficiency and integrity; as a Judge he was just and pure, holding the scales of justice without partiality.

His highest record lies in the fact that on the bench he was an obstacle both to the unlawful acts of great millionaires and the disorderly attempts of excited labor. It is to be said as an epitaph to the dead Secretary that up to 1888 the chief difficulty in the way of his becoming President was in his virtues.

The two years of his service as Secretary of State have been the most trying part of his career. It seems to be the fact that it is due to the tax upon his strength made by the anxieties and difficulties of the situation that he is now dead. It is to be remembered that he accepted that position only because it was urged upon him as a public duty, and there should be a stern lesson on the asperities of our politics in the fact that the sacrifice in leaving the bench for the cabinet has been extended to include his life. While the circumstances preceding his acceptance of that position made him the especial target for the criticisms of partisanship, no sincere man will deny that his course in that office has been careful, honest and inspired by the desire for justice and right.

The nation can only mourn the dead Secretary as one whose life has been given to the public service, free from the sordid and corrupt features that are too common in our politics. We have too few men of that stamp in public life and can hardly spare one who so prominently represents the best type of political leader.

Ordered to Honolulu.

Washington, May 27.—Orders were telegraphed late Saturday to Commander Thomas, of the Bennington, now at Mare Island navy yard, Cal., to proceed to Honolulu as repairs on his vessel are completed and report Admiral Beardslee. The Bennington will remain in Hawaiian waters indefinitely for the protection of American interests, and the flagship Philadelphia on being releived of that duty will come to San Francisco for extensive repairs and docking.

A Mother's Horrible Crime.

Baltimore, May 28.—Mrs. Marian Curtin, 45 years old, murdered her 14-year-old daughter Mamie, at her home, 1713 Aisquith street to-day, and afterwards committed suicide. She killed her daughter with a razor and cut her own throat with the same instrument. It is supposed the woman was temporarily insane.

ARE VERY RITICENT.

No News Obtainable as to the New Steamship St. Louis.

Philadelphia, May 24.—The international Navigation company's new steamship St. Louis will leave her wharf at Cramp's ship yard to-morrow morning at 10.30 o'clock for her trial trip at sea. Both Cramps and the International Navigation company are averse to giving any information regarding the ship's trial. Only representatives of the two companies will be taken upon the trip and no guests or representatives of any newspapers have been invited to go. The St. Louis will probably reach the Breakwater to-morrow night, although she may be compelled to come to anchor in the river to wait for the tide. If she arrives at the Breakwater to-morrow night she will probably anchor and go to Sea Sunday morning.

The trial will consume about three days, the ship returning either on Tuesday night or Wednesday morning. So secretive are the preparations for the trial that the officials of the two companies refuse to say whether the ship will return to Philadelphia or go directly to New York. But it can be stated with certainty that unless some accident occurs to the machinery, or some other unforseen event takes place, the St. Louis will return here. It was the intention at first to take the ship to Newport News and dock her and have her bottom painted, but this idea has been abandoned and the ship will probably make a number of trips between New York and Southamptom before she goes into the dry dock. Captain R. Sargeant, the Cramp's shipmaster, will be in command of the St. Louis on the trial trip and the Cramp's men will man her. The St. Louis is completed and ready for sea, and will sail from New York for her initial trip to Southamption upon June 5.

The reasons for the secrecy maintained regarding the ship's trial are that the two companies—the Cramps and the International Navigation company—prefer that general information in regard to the vessel's speed and seaworthiness should not become public until the St. Louis shows upon her regular trips what she is capable of.

The Epworth Leaguers.

Philadelphia, May 24.—The annual convention of the fourth general conference district of the Epworth League began to-day in the Academy of Music. The opening exercises, a song service, was led by Professor James M. Black, of Williamsport, a member of the advisory committee of the board of control. The morning session was largely taken up with the reading of reports and the appointment of committees. In his annual report President Sites stated that the league is established in from 75 to 100 per cent. of the churches in each district.

The report of Secretary William H. Piekop placed the membership in the district, including senior and junior leagues, at 99,979, divided among 1,596 chapters.

After a number of addresses had been made, the convention adjourned for lunch. Upon re-assembling at 1.30 p. m. a tour of inspection was made by the delegates. Under the direction of the local recreation committee, numerous points of interest were visited. This eyening a praise service was held in the Academy of Music.

This Looks Like Conspiracy.

Pittsburg, May 24.—The failure of the miners officials to stop the works of the New York and Cleveland Gas and Coal company last night, has resulted in plans for another effort. Miners from the Youghiogheny district and from the Pan Handle and other districts are to gather at stated points and march until they meet in one body. Then the force which is expected to number not less than 2,000 men will be so large that sufficient deputies can not be obtained to checkmate the movement. The miners' forces, according to a secret circular, will be under conservative leaders and the miners are warned against disorder. Just when this move will be made is yet a well kept secret. It is known that a mass meeting of river miners is secluded at West Newton to-morrow afternoon and it is surmised that this is part of the scheme preparatory to the march on the New York and Cleveland works. The outcome of the movement cannot be conjectured.

Are Now Americans.

New York, May 24.—Commander Ballington Booth, who is in command of the Salvation Army forces in the United States, and his wife, Maud Elizabeth Booth, were made full fledged American citizens this morning. Judge Kenny administered the oath to them in the county clerk's office. They had lived in this country a little more than eight years, and in this state five years. Mr. Booth renounced his allegiance to her majesty with no apparent reluctance. They are proud of becoming American citizens.

Demented and Robbed.

Akron, O., May 24.—M. Hardy, 40 years of age, has been visiting his sister here, Mrs. J. C. Brady, for a week. Three days ago he disappeared. To-day he was found on the streets, demented and unable to tell his own name. When he came to Akron he had $500 and a gold watch but when found his pockets did not contain a penny and his watch was gone. Mr. Hardy lives in Chicago, where he is sewer inspector in the employ of the city. He will be taken to Chicago and put in an asylum.

Morton as a Candidate.

Albany, N. Y., May 24.—"I do not believe there is any foundation for this talk that Governor Morton has made an alliance with ex-President Harrison to bring about the nomination of another Harrison and Morton ticket in 1896," aid John Palmer, secretary of state. "Mr. Morton," he added, "has been vice president once, and the office probably has no further attractions for him. Besides the fact must be considered that he was elected Governor of New York in 1894 by the remarkable majority of 150,000, and that his course as governor has been highly satisfactory to his fellow citizens irrespective of party. I think that, popular as he was when he became governor, he is a much stronger man today, for as chief executive of the state he has carried out the general will in a variety of ways.

"Much as I respect Benjamin Harrison, I am convinced that Levi P. Morton is the logical candidate of the New York republicans for the presidency. If he desires the nomination he will have a solid delegation from New York state to the national convention. To my mind that appears to be the drift of republican sentiment in this state."

Just Like White Men.

Eufala, I. T., May 22.—An insurrection has broken out in the Creek nation against the tribal heads of the government. Armed bands are marching on Ockmulgee, the capital. Seventy-five men left a rendezvous near here this morning and it is said, were joined by 100 more from New Yorker, an Indian town. In addition to this, news has reached here that five other Indian towns have sent forty men each to join the insurgents in their march on the capital. The trouble it is claimed, is, because of the alleged misappropriation by the Creek head of a part of the Creek fund which was to have been paid out per capita to the Indian citizens. Esparheche, who led the insurrection in 1883, is said to be at the head of the present trouble. The council is in session at Ockmulgee. The insurgents declare they will go there to see that the council investigates the matter and compel the chief, L. C. Perryman, to resign and set up Hotulke Amartheler, the second chief, in his stead. The hardware stores here did a big business in munitions of war yesterday.

Wilde's Second Trial Begun.

London, May 22.—The second trial of Oscar Wilde was begun in the Old Bailey court before Justice Wills. There was a dense crowd of interested spectators present in the court room. Wilde was very restless and looked worried and careworn. The solicitor general, Sir Frank Lockwood, in opening the case for the treasury said that the indictment covered acts of gross indecency during the period extending from February to October, 1893. He then recited the charges made against Wilde in connection with Edward Shelly, Alfred Wood and others. The Marquis of Queensbury was present at the trial of Oscar Wilde to-day. During the morning session Wilde was taken ill and was obliged to leave the court.

Centennial Notes.

Wanted! One hundred Bellefonte boys, ages ranging from 10 to 15 years, to call at the Hall of the Knights of the Golden Eagle at 7:30 p. m. to-day, for the purpose of enlisting as Golden Eagle Cadets, to serve from now until the centennial demonstration is over. These boys will be put under training by competent officers, in accordance with the rules of the manual of the military branch of the order. The corps will be officered by boys taken from the ranks according to merit in mastering the tactics. It is hoped the full number of boys will be present this evening as the time for training is short.

COMMITTEE.

Dr. Foster elected.

Chambersburg, Pa., May 22.—This was the second day of the meeting of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania, in session here. Among the speakers were J. J. Buchannan, Theodore Dillon, Joseph W. Willets and F. M. LeMoyne of Pittsburg.

Dr. W. S. Foster, of Pittsburg, was elected president of the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania at the morning session by a vote of 32 to 5 over Dr. John Montgomery of Chambersburg. The evening session was held at Wilson college, being followed by an informal reception by the president and faculty.

Woman School Superintendent.

The first appointment of a female superintendent in Pennsylvania was made yesterday by State Superintendent Schaeffer at Harrisburg. The appointee is Miss Agnes Kerr, who will take charge of the schools in Forest City. She was appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the death of the lady's brother.

The United Presbyterians.

Pittsburg, May 24.—But few other than the authorized commissioners were present at the opening of the morning session of the United Presbyterian general assembly.

The first interesting feature was the appearance on the floor of Rev. A. G. Carson, of Xenia, Ohio, who rose to speak from personal privilege. Dr. Carson is a representative of the element in the United Presbyterian church that oppose instrumental music. At a previous asembly Dr. Carson entered upon record a protest against the decision of the asembly of 1883, which authorized the use of the organ in divine worship. To-day Dr. Carson wished to change his protest to a sentiment of dissent and for half an hour talked earnestly on his views which had not changed since his protest was recorded. By a motion, Dr. Carson's change of expressed sentiment was recorded in the minutes.

Of much import was the report of the committee on union with the Holland Christian Reformed church. Close co-operation was agreed upon between the two bodies, and organic union seems a future possibility. The subject was made a special order for discussion on Tuesday afternoon next. The reports of minor committees occupied the time of the assembly to the noon adjournment.

Strawberries.

Baltimore, Md., May 22.—Throughout the trucking region of Anne Arundel county the farmers are making preparations for the gathering of strawberries. Hundreds of crates and thousands of berry boxes are piled up under the trees and under temporary sheds near the strawberry fields ready to be filled with the fruit, and the farmers are putting the quarters for the pickers in order. Many of the farmers were in Baltimore yesterday engaging pickers, who will swarm into the county in the course of the present week.

The berry fields look well and the prospects are for a good crop, although the berry growers have been very much alarmed during the past ten days, they say, and had a hail storm passed over the county the berry and pea crop would have been ruined.

A few berries were picked and sent to Baltimore yesterday and sold for fairly good prices. These were few, however, and of the earliest variety raised in the county. With good weather the season will be at its height in the next ten days.

She Loved the Heathen.

Chicago, May 22.—Mabel Cook left her home in New York on Sunday to come to Chicago to marry a Chinaman. Last night she slept at the Harrison street station annex, and her prospective husband could not be found. Not only did the celestial she intended to marry fail to meet her at the Polk street station, according to agreement, but a thief stole her purse, containing all the money she had.

The Chinaman whom Mabel came to Chicago to marry is named Lee Lad. She says she met him first at a mission near her home. Her mother is dead, and she was housekeeper for her father. The Chinaman had lots of money, and she liked him. Lee Lad came to Chicago three weeks ago and sent a railway ticket and money to the girl.

The United Presbyterians.

Pittsburg, May 22.—The thirty-seventh general assembly of the United Presbyterian church began its sessions to-night in the Sixth church, on North Highland avenue. The edifice was crowded, an audience of at least 1,600 persons listening to the sermon of the retiring moderator, Rev. John A. Wilson, of the Allegheny Theological Seminary.

The most important question to come before the assembly, as was the case with the Presbyterian general assembly, now in session in this city, will be seminary control. There are in the church 12 synods, 64 presbyteries, 938 congregations, 857 ministers and 107,375 communicants.

Suspected of Counterfeiting.

A man was arrested in Eldred township yesterday who is suspected of making counterfeit money. He gave his name as Anton Straub he had in his possession a counterfeit half dollar of very bad make, a kit of materials, moulds, lead, etc., for making United States coins of various kinds. He was remanded to jail, in default of $500 bail, for a hearing this afternoon. —L. H. Express.

Boys Make Money.

Wanted an energetic and reliable boy in each city and town. Anambitious lad can make money fast, or secure any article desired from an air rifle to a bicycle, for a few hours work each Saturday morning. If your parents consent, write for particulars. Address, C. S. Walnut, 36 S. 7th St., Philadelphia, Pa.

High School Commencement.

The 12th annual commencement exercises of the Bellefonte High school will be held in Garman's Opera House, Friday, May 31st, afternoon and evening. The class of '95 consists of the following young ladies and gentlemen who have successfully completed the prescribed course of study: Nellie G. Anderson, Lena Baum, M. Guendoline Crottie, Francis B. Elmore Annie Marie Fox, Della V. Goodfellow, G. Gray Hastings, Katharine G. Hlylmun Katharine M. Lieb, Teresa M. Lyon, William S. McCalmont, Charles A. McClure, Harriet B. Stott and Mary H. Underwood. First honor awarded Miss Underwood and second to Miss Goodfellow. The class motto is: Let the end crown the work."

The exercises begin at 2:30 p. m., which will consist of essays, orations and a discussion of Woman's Rights, by two members of the graduating class.

In the evening at 8 p. m., the commencement address will be delivered by the Hon. Thomas H. Murray, of Clearfield, after that D. F. Fortney, Esq., president of the school board, will address the audience and award the diplomas and prizes.

The Bellefonte Orchestra will furnish music for the occasion.

At Hecla Park.

The following dates have been definitely engaged for picnics at Hecla Park this season:

An Exhoneration for Daniels.

Atlanta, Ga., May 22.—Grand Secretary and Treasurer W. P. Daniels, of the Order of Railway Conductors, has been exonerated. The special committee investigating the charges against him reported this afternoon and found him not guilty He was charged with using his office to promote a wildcat mining scheme and with paying more attention to politics than to his office. The charges were made by the Camden, N. J., division, which helped to defeat Daniels for re-election at the election last week. Camden division was required to apologize.

While watching a ball game at Centralia William Burke dropped dead.

SIX O'CLOCK.

WEARY WOMEN WATCH FOR THAT BLESSED HOUR.

Help for our Working-Girls and Women Near at Hand.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

N the stroke of six ends the day's work at stores, offices, factories, mills, where women are employed. But their necessary work at home, sewing, mending, etc., must be done after that time, and "their work is never done."

All women work; some for ambition, some for economy in the household, but the great mass of women work for their daily bread. All are subject to the same physical laws; all suffer alike from the same physical disturbances, and the nature of their duties often quickly drifts them into the horrors of all kinds of female complaints, ovarian troubles, inflammation, ulceration, falling and displacement of the womb, leucorrhœa, and perhaps irregular or suppressed "monthly periods," causing severe backache, loss of appetite, nervousness, irritability and weakness.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the unfailing cure for all these troubles. It strengthens the proper muscles, and cures displacement.

Backache, dizziness, fainting, bearing-down, disordered stomach, moodiness, dislike of friends and society—all symptoms of the one cause—will be quickly dispelled. Write Mrs. Pinkham about your trouble.

You can tell the story of your pain to a woman, and get the help that only woman can give. Mrs. Pinkham's address is Lynn, Mass.

IS GREATER THAN ROYALTY ITSELF.

The Modern Woman.

"Now, the modern woman," began Snifter, "is really attracting more attention than modesty will permit—"

"If the fool men would mind their own business there would be no trouble," replied Mrs. Snifter,

"That's it!" responded Snifter. "I'm impressed more and more every day with the forwardness of the modern woman."

"There's certainly room enough in the world for all to live."

"Yes, my dear, but the modern woman is destined to destroy all that is loveable in the very thought of woman—"

"It seems to me," said Mrs. Snifter, that there is not the sympathy between menand women that ought to exist—"

"Ah, my dear, I have thought of that, but you know the modern woman has rendered such a thought distasteful—"

"But cannot men be gentlemanly?"

"Ah, my dear, you don't understand. The modern woman—"

"What is the modern woman?"

"Eh? What?"

"Who is she?"

"Why—er—huh?"

"That's what I thought, Snifter. To ask a man what he's talking about is to find out he's an idiot!"

And, somehow, Snifter hasn't thought so much about the modern woman since. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

The Bellefonte Republican

For $3.75.

If purchased separately these periodicals would cost $4.50.

IT IS THE PLAN OF SCRIBNER'S to give its readers next year a history of the past 25 years in the United States, (1894-95.) These years have been unparralleled in the history of the world for national development and material progress. The narrative will be written in a graphic and picturesque style by President Andrews, of Brown University, and capable artists will illustrate it.

ROBERT GRANT whose "Reflections of a Married Man" will long be remembered, has written a series of articles on "The Art of Living," in which he sets himself to solve, as far as such problems can be solved, quest ons which beset every well-to-do family: The Income—The dwelling—Household Expenses—Education of Children—Marriage and Single Life—The Summer Problem, etc., etc. Beautifully illustrated.

GEORGE MEREDITH, whom more than one good authority has pronounced the greatest of living novelists, has written a strong serial, "The Amazing Marriage" to begin in January.

D. HOWELLS, will contribute a novel entitled "The Story of a Play."

IN THE LAND OF DON QUIXOTE will be a series of three sketches illustrated by Daniel Vierge's wonderful drawings.

SINGLE ARTICLES in great variety have been arranged for and the illustrations will be elaborate.

CENTENNIAL NOTES.

Interesting Facts About the Coming Celebration.

The Relic Committee is the only committee so far that has been hard at work, and they have been busy as bees; and the result will be well attested when the people come to view the remarkable collection of wonders, ancient and modern, which will be exhibited in the public school building, in the North ward.

EVERYBODY! EVERYBODY!! ATTENTION!!!

All those who have not yet reported to the Committee on Parade, that they will represent their business in line of the Industrial Division of the parade on June 7th, are hereby cordially invited and urged to get up a display for the occasion, and report the same at earliest possible time to the committee. The committee has not time to visit every one, and takes this method of extending the call. Not only does this apply to our business men, but to all citizens in our town, and to all business men and citizens in our County who feel inclined to join us by displaying anything in the line of progress from the most aboriginal design, and representing milestones on the way of progress up to the present status of Art, Science and Industry. Favor us with the old methods of life and customs of agriculture; advertise liberally our present industries, give us the beautiful in any form as well as the comic and fantastic. Every village in Centre county should be represented, and every citizen throughout the county who can favor us with something to add to the display, is hereby requested to report and a place will be made for him in the industrial parade. Help us make this Bellefonte Centennial worthy of our town and the mutual relations that exist between the town and the citizens of Centre county generally. Do not let any one say, "I was not asked to participate," because the call is to every one who feels inclined to show us aid and good will. Our town will be crowded with visitors as never before and we want them to leave us feeling that Bellefonte has sustained her reputation upon the occasion that called here. Now, friends; the time is short, get down to business. The military and civic organizations are coming to our rescue nobly, now do not let the Industrial Division, which is the essence of the occasion, prove in any manner wanting.

AMOS MULLEN,
Ch. Com. on Parade.

[Other county papers are requested to copy the above.]

Robbed in the Woods.

Amos Crain, one of the young men who robbed the slaughter house of Irwin & Horstman some months ago, and who served a term in jail for his stealing, is again in trouble. Associated with him this time is Foster Kaup. On Tuesday C. F. Allen of Boalsburg, came to Tyrone from Pennsylvania Furnace, and proceeded to imbibe sufficient tanglefoot whiskey to keep him in a boozy condition during the day. Keeping up the spree the next day, towards evening he found his way into the woods above the depot. After he had been there a short time Amos Cain approached him, and engaged in conversation, Crain proposing to make a trip to Pittsburg, which was agreed to. A further proposition of Crain brought forth fifteen cents from Allen to which was added some money by Crain the whole making up the price of a bottle of whiskey which was soon procured.

In the meantime Foster Kaup appeared on the scene. Allen took a drink of the whiskey, and soon fell into a partial stupor, but feeling a fumbling about his pockets he opened his eyes and discovered his watch in the hands of Crain. Allen in a drowsy way told Crain to put the watch back, and he did so. This is the last Allen remembered till he awoke the next morning about 8 o'clock to find himself minus a gold watch, from $15 to $20 in money, a shield containing his name, a knife, etc., which he had in his pockets the night before.

Some time yesterday Allen related the circumstances to Officer Barr, describing the men who were with him in the woods. Barr at once suspicioned Crain and Kaup and not being able to find them in town concluded that they had gone away to have a spree on Allen's cash. Last night when Philadelphia express east stopped at Tyrone the two young men stepped from the train and Barr arrested them and put them in the lockup.

A hearing was given them before Justice Smith this morning at 10 o'clock, when the facts as above stated came out. Allen and Officer Barr being sworn, Barr producing 66 cents in change, a silver watch, the shield containing Allen's name, a knife, etc., as being his property, but said the watch was not his. He also identified Crain and Kaup as being the men who were with him in the woods. The watch was returned to Kaup. It is supposed the gold filed watch was sold or pawned and the proceeds together with the other cash spent in the spree which they evidently indulged in during Wednesday night and yesterday.

In default of $300 bail each, Crain and Kaup were bound over to court, and taken to jail this afternoon. G. L. Owens, Esq. attorney for Crain and Kaup asked that bail also be required of Allen for his appearance at court. A. Barr become his surety, and thus ended the matter before the justice. The indications are pretty strong that Allen was drugged, and the chances are pretty good for Crain at least getting a term in the penitentiary.—Tyrone Herald.

Y. M. C. A. News.

The ladies will hold a special meeting next Monday evening, May 27th, at 8 o'clock. It is desired that all ladies, whether or not members of the auxiliary, should attend. Mothers and friends, if you desire to see the work for young men prosper and the doors of the Y. M. C. A. kept open, attend the meeting on Monday evening.

***

Jarchens climbed a sycamore tree to see Christ, but there are a great many men in Bellefonte to-day who wouldn't turn around to see him. Oh, that we had more men of the Jarchens type.

***

Lost,—A lad, carefully reared; not long from home, and for a time very promising; supposed to have gone with one or two older companions to Prodigal town, Husk Lane. He must be somewhere in Bellefonte. Any person assisting in the recovery of the above will in no wise lose his reward. The Association is doing its level best to keep boys from staying away. An ounce of prevention is better than a pound of cure.

***

We are going to have something fine at Hecla Park June 20th. Keep up the excitement; agitate it; plan for it.

***

To every member of the Association we make the following appeal: Can't you make the membership 300? Not next year or next month, but now. Your personal effort will count for more than all the Associations, advertising. Talk about it. Push it. Boom the Association.

***

We need a score of young men to assist in the arrangements for the great day at Hecla Park on June 20th. If a large number will lend a helping hand, the work will fall very light on each person; but if, as is the usual custom, the work is thrown on the secretary to do, you can set the whole thing down as being a grand fizzle. Let the mothers and sisters and young men all join hands and make the occasion a success in every respect. Remember the ladies will have a meeting on Monday evening, and the young men will meet on Friday evening.

A Lesson From a Cemetery.

Take a walk through any of the cemeteries throughout the country and you will almost believe that the fools are slowly but surely passing away.

You pass the last resting place of a man who blew into an empty gun. The tombstone of him who lighted the fire with kerosene. The grass carpeted mound which covers the remains of the man who took the mule by the tail. The tall monument of the man who didn't know it was loaded overshadows the man who jumped from the cars to save a ten rods' walk. Side by side lies the ethereal creature who kept her corset laced to the last hole, and the intelligent idiot who rode a bicycle nine miles in ten minutes. Here reposes a doctor who took a dose of his own medicine, and the old fool who married a young wife. Right over yonder in the north-west corner the breezes sigh through the weeping willows that bend over the lowly bed where lies the fellow who told his mother-in-law she lied. Down there in the potter's field, with his feet sticking out to the cold blasts of winter and the listering rays of the summer sun, is stretched the earthly remains of the misguided regulator, who tried to lick the editor, while the broken bones of the man who would not pay for his paper are piled up in a corner of the fence. Over by the gate reposes the boy who went swimming on Sunday and the old woman who kept the baking powder side by side with the strychnine in the cupboard. The old-fool killer gathers them in one by one and by and by we will have a pretty decent world to live in.

A Diminutive Book.

A book but little larger than a one-cent piece has just been published in Paris. It is the story of Perraut, Little Hop of My Thump. There are eighty pages of printed matter and four engravings. The book is 38 millimeters long, 28 wide and 6 thick, and its weight is only five grammes. It is one of the smallest books ever printed, surpassing in that respect the "dwarf book" of the World's Fair, which could be heard on a Columbian postage stamp.

The little volume is a complete book in every way the binding being perfect the pages duly numbered, and the little page appearing with all the formality of the most dignified volume. The pages can only be read by the use of a microscope: but then it is found that the printing is clear and that the proof reading has been excellently done.

Several men in France are carrying these volumes inside their watch covers. A copy presented to a French library has been duly entered in the catalogues and placed on the shelves.

There is still a smaller book than this in existence. It is entitled "Bloem Hofje; or the Court of the Flowers," and was published in 1647. There are forty-nine pages, each of which, including the margin, is but seventeen millimeters, by eight. The book is beautifully bound in old calf and has decorated gilt back and gilt edges. It is illustrated by well-printed plates and is closed by a gold fillagree clasp of exquisite workmanship.

A new washery that will turn out 300 tons of coal a day is being built near Pottsville by the Philadelphia and Reading company.

There is Reformation for the Inebriate.

The reformation of the drunkard is a problem that has occupied the attention of both scientists and laymen from time beyond memory, and many are the theories that have been advanced both regarding the cause of inebriety and suggestive of remedies to overcome it. By some it is claimed to be a disease, by others the disease theory is entirely discredited, and prominent among the latter are the managers of the Franklin Reformatory Home for Inebriates. This institution has now been in existance for nearly a quarter of a century, and in that time there have been admitted within in its walls nearly 6,000 men, of whom more than forty per cent. were reformed and restored to the dignity of manhood. With such results as this the institution is willing to rest its entire claim for usefulness on the proposition that drunkenness is not a disease but simply a diseased condition, and that all that is necessary to effect permanent reformation is first to restore the drunkard to his normal physical health, and then inculcate in his mind the truth that drinking is a sin, and inspire a higher moral character. When this is accomplished, the sin of drinking is no longer persisted in, and complete reformation follows as a natural consequence. The twenty-third annual report of the Home just issued, and which will be sent to any address on application to C. J. Gibbons, Superintendent, 915 Locust street, Philadelphia, is full of matter of interest to those seeking knowledge relating to the reformation of inebriety. It covers the entire history of the institution, and is well worth reading if for no other purpose than the moral lessen it carries with it.

More Backbone Needed.

A correspondent in the Watsontown Star pens the following, which has a comic vein running through it, yet the truth of which is wholesome and can be applied to all communities:

"What the people of this country want is more backbone, and how to get it has just been found out. There is a gentleman in DuBois who is selling a most wonderful liniment. A man who was moving fell down six flights of stairs with a sewing machine, a cradle, a cabinet organ, a mirror and a clock on his back. His back was broken. After the third application the patient had a new backbone, three or four inches longer than the old one. This is the preparation the world has been sighing for—something to give the people more backbone."

Weds a Dusky Maiden.

San Francisco, May 24.—Advices from Tahita bring the intelligence of the marriage here of United States Consul Jacob Lamb Doty of New York to a half-caste native girl named Mauen Tameo Raural, aged 16. Young Doty did not call in a missionary to tie the knot, but was wedded after the native fashion.

Doty was cruising in a yacht with a friend when he espied a native girl trying to bring to land an overturned canoe. He swam out to help her, and the acquaintance thus began ripened into love. Her guardian objected to the marriage because of her youth, but Doty took her to another island, where he went through the native wedding ceremony. The girl has been well educated and speaks three languages.

Forest Fires.

Ashland, Wis., May 24.—Forest fires are raging in the vicinity of Ashland Junction and south of Ashland. The weather has been so dry that some concern is felt. Dispatches from down the lines of the Wisconsin Central and Chicago & Northwestern roads say the fires are bad this evening. The state fire wardens will take every precaution.

Ramsay, Mich., May, 24.—This town is surrounded by forest fires and the people are in great fear that the town will burn and are taking necessary precautions. The weather is oppressively hot and the brush and undergrowth is dry as tinder.

Wheat Unscathed.

St. Paul, Minn., May 23.—Reports from the great wheat belt of North Dakota, in the Red river valley, are to the effect that although the frosts of the last week have been very severe they have not ruined the young plant. The farmers say that in spite of the bad appearance of wheat it will quickly recover, and with warm rains will not be backward more than a week because of the cold snap. In South Dakota wheat is all right. In Western Minnesota the damage was mainly to flax and corn, which are just peeping out of the ground. Many fields of corn will have to be replanted.

To Keep Flies Out.

The following suggestion may be of use to those who do not like door and window screens:

"I never use window screens," said a wise housekeeper the other day, because I have a fancy that they shut out all the air in hot weather, and besides they serve to keep the flies in as well as out."

"But I never see a fly in your house," said her friend, how do you manage it For my part I must confess that screens or no screens, my summer means to me one long battle with the little pests."

"My little remedy is a very simple one," said the good housekeeper, "and I learned it years ago from my grandmother, when I used to watch her putting bunches of lavender flowers around to keep the flies away. My method is simpler. I buy five cents worth of oil of lavender at the drug store and mix it with the same quantity of water. Then I put it in a common glass atomizer and spray it around the rooms, wherever flies are apt to congregate especially in the dining room, where I sprinkle it plentifully over the table linen. The odor is disagreeable to flies, and they will never venture in its neighborhood, though to most people it has a peculiarly fresh and grateful smell.

The Icy May of '34.

A correspondent of New York Mail and Express writes. This spring is almost a duplicate of the spring of 1834, except that we have had heavy frosts instead of snow and light frost. Ice formed as thick in May of that year as window glass. On May 14 I hired out to work on a farm, two miles from Courtland. The spring had been very similar to this. Fruit trees were in blossom the day I commenced working, but it began to grow cold, and continued to do so for three days.

Finally it grew so cold that Mr. How, for whom I worked, had to wear an overcoat and mittens while ploughing. On the 17th it commenced snowing very fast, and the flakes were soon eight to ten inches deep. On the 18th and 19th it was very cold. Potatoes that were covered up with straw in the barn were frozen. On the 19th and 20th we drew wood on a sled.

The sleighing at that time was good. Nearly all the leaves dropped off the trees in the forest.

Shenandoah.

This is one of the most fascinating stories ever emanating from the pen of an American author, and is hailed with delight by all who have read it. It is rapidly becoming very popular and is creating a furore wherever introduced. It is a love story pure and simple—founded on the great achievements of Sheridan in the Shenandoah Valley during the late civil war, and the descriptions of the Battle of Winchester and of Sheridan's Great Ride are here given as seen by the eye-witness. This is truly a wonderful book. The next number is still better and more good things are to follow. All old soldiers, their wives and children will read this great book and enjoy it. The book contains 221 pages, printed on fine paper, handsomely illustrated, and bound in illuminated cover. Published by the Novelist Publishing Co., 61 Beekman St., New York City, and sold throughout the United States and Canada for the low price of 25 cents. All newsdealers handle it.

A Grand Reunion.

A reunion will be held by the Patrons of Husbandry, of Central Pennsylvania, under the auspices of Walker Grange No. 345 P. of H., at Hecla Park, which is the finest, and most pleasant park in this section of the state, on the line of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, on Saturday, June 15th, 1895. Some of the most prominent speakers of the order will be present to enlighten the patrons and others on grange topics. Refreshments consisting of meals, ice cream, cakes, soft drinks, bananas, candies and all other delicacies of the season will be served during the day and evening. Several of the most prominent bands will be present to furnish music for the occasion. There will also be sports such as boat racing, tub racing, etc., will be participated in during the day on the lakes. All are cordially invited to attend.

—Mr. Charles Bowes, of Bellefonte, was granted a pension May 9th.

—Sell's Brothers circus is headed this way. Wonder if it will stop in Bellefonte.

—How cold it grows after every shower of rain. It really seems as if we were not going to have a genuine summer.

—Up to this writing we have not heard of one fight on Tuesday. This is remarkable, considering the large crowd in town.

—Mrs. Puff, widow of John Puff, who died several weeks ago, breathed her last at her home on Halfmoon hill on Monday.

—On Tuesday Charles Glenn, photographer, took a number of pictures of Walter L. Main's show, which included one of the large tents.

—And the mystery which surrounds the death of the man recently found in the woods near Fowler station, continues to deepen, and promises to be a hard case to unravel.

—The funeral of Edith, the eight months' old child of Mr. and Mrs. George Mallory, who died on Wednesday afternoon, occurred Friday afternoon and was largely attended.

—The exhibition of samples of work done by the pupils in the junior schools begins to-day and all parents and others interested should visit the schools and inspect the work. It makes a very attractive collection.

—It is reported that Hastings & Beaver, of Bellefonte, have purchased a large tract of coal land in Burnside township, Clearfield county, lately owned by the Mahaffey estate. The price paid is said to have been $6,000.

—The Magnet says that there is a family living alongside of the school house in College township, not one member of which can read or write. This is certainly an instance wherein the compulsory education law might do good.

—A branch of the Commerical Travelers Home association of America was organized in Lebanon Friday evening last, by Treharne Lewis, traveling organizing agent. The Lebanon county branch is the fifteenth in Pennsylvania.

—In order to accommodate those coming to Bellefonte on June 5th, 6th and 7th, the Central R. R., of Pa., has arranged to run extra trains between Mill Hall and Bellefonte the details of which will be made known in due time.

—Next week the Watchman will be gotten out as a purely centennial edition, and will contain some forty columns of reading matter, with illustrations, made up entirely of the centennial. It will be an interesting edition and one that should be kept by all.

—Cards are out for the wedding of Elmer C., son of Samuel T. Brown, of Huntingdon and Miss Frances E. Gregg at the home of the bride in Milesburg, on June 5th next. The couple expect to go to housekeeping at Patton, Pa., where Mr. Brown has been located for some time past.

—An addition is being built to the building occupied by the new jewelry firm of F. C. Richard's Sons. When finished it will be used by the above firm as an office. The room as it is, is entirely too small for the large and increasing trade the firm is enjoying by their very careful attention to business.

—The Clearfield Cadets last week received fifty breech loading Springfield rifles from the Government Arsenal at Washington, and will fire a salute over the G. A. R. lot in the cemetery on Memorial Day. An effort is being made to have the Cadets accompany the Clearfield Fire Company to the Fireman's Convention at Bellefonte in June.

—We acknowledge the receipt of an invitation to attend the commencement and reunion exercises of the Central Penna. College at New Berlin from June 7 to 13. The Baccalureate Sermon will be delivered by Rev. A. E. Gobble, president of the college, on Sunday, June 9th, at 7.30 p. m. On Wednesday evening, June 12th, J. L. Spangler, Esq., of Bellefonte, will deliver the annual address before the alumni.

—The Philipsburg Ledger says: Thomas Redding, of Chester Hill, is suffering with a sore arm, the result of a singular accident. His cow choked on a piece of turnip and Mr. Redding thrust his hand down her throat trying to remove the obstruction. The cow, furious with alarm and pain, bit him twice, once on the elbow when his hand was in her throat, and again on the hand as he was trying to free his arm.

—Friday morning the horse used by Harry Cowdrick to cart away the dirt excavated from the foundation for a house on East Linn street, frightened at something and ran away, tearing down Linn street at a tremendous pace, then south on Allegheny to Howard and up to the Logan Hose house where the cart, literally a wreck broke loose and the horse went on. Singular as it may seem, it was not injured in the least.

DEATH OF DAVID GATES.

At His Home in Loveville, on Friday Last, May 24th.

After an illness dating from the 7th day of March last Mr. David Gates died at his home in Loveville, this county, at 9.5 o'clock, Friday morning, May 24th. During a number of years past he has not enjoyed the best of health, but it was not until in March that his condition became at all serious. Then he contracted a cold which settled on his lungs and, being well up in years, and of not a very strong constitution, the skill of the best physicians obtainable was baffled to eradicate the disease. All that was possible to do was done, but it only availed in prolonging life during a period of over two months and then the once sturdy, strong frame was so weakened and wasted away that the grim reaper death could not longer be baffled of his prey, and, calmly and peacefully as a child lulled to sleep in its mother's arms, the silver cord which binds mortality with immortality was rent in twain and the spirit of the living had gone to the God who gave it to join the countless host of departed humanity to await the summons on the final judgment day. The last words spoken were "Lift me higher," and when loving hands attempted to do his bidding they were motioned away while the dying man pointed upwards toward Heaven.

David Gates was born in this county and was a son of Emanuel and Sophia Gates, one of a large family of children, four brothers and four sisters yet surviving him. He first saw the light of day on the 14th day of March 1832, and dying on May 24th, 1895, was thus aged 63 years, 2 months and 10 days. Early in life he was made dependent on himself by the death of his father and, though he never arose to political or worldly positions, he won and maintained an honorable reputation in the community in which he lived, content to fill one of the humbler spheres of life; and, in thus doing and dealing out kindness to friends and neighbors he won the esteem and respect of all, and his death is mourned, not alone by his family, but by all who knew him. During the past twenty-one years he has resided at Loveville where for almost ten years he has been engaged in farming. Mr. Gates was the father of a large family of children, thirteen in all, three of which number preceded him to the great beyond and the others, with a loving and affectionate wife, Mrs. Mary Gates, are left to mourn the loss of an ever kind and indulgent husband and father. The children are Frances S., wife of A. W. Smith, of Clearfield county; Charles L., of Bellefonte; Hannah M., Sarah C., at home; E. Emeline, wife of Hayes Dickson, Warriorsmark; Ellen A., Annie L., Benner G., Wilda E. and Earle at home.

The funeral occurred on Sunday morning at 9.30 o'clock, services being held in the Centre Line Lutheran church, by Rev F. L. Bergstresser, of Tyrone, who preached a most affecting and appropriate sermon from the text found in Rev. 24:13—"Blessed are the dead who die in the Lord; for they shall rest from their labors." After the services, and when all of the large gathering assembled to pay their last tribute of respect had taken a final look and farewell, the remains were interred in the little cemetery adjoining the church and, as the remains were lowered to their last resting place a quartette sang "That Beautiful Home," one of the deceased's favorite songs. Six nephews acted as pall bearers, namely, Thomas and Roland Gates, of Rock Spring; Elmer and Luther Sunday, of Pennsylvania Furnace; Frank Wasson, of Lemont, and James Harpster, of Rock Spring.

Husband and father, good bye; death has its terrors beyond description. We see and have our loved ones with us for years and years and do not, yea cannot, associate them with death. But the grim destroyer is no respector of persons and one and all, in the course of onward fleeting time, must answer to his call. You shall be missed—God alone knows how much, but as the mortal body rests beneath the sod in the quiet little home of the dead, and long after the grass shall have grown green over your grave, loving tears may be shed for our loss here, but your teachings and precepts shall be remembered by all as an incentive to look forward to a reunion in that land that knows no parting, sorrow or tears.

The family hereby returns most heartfelt thanks to all kind friends and neighbors who so fully and cheerfully sympathized with and assisted them during deceased's sickness and death.

Banquetted at the Fallon.

About fifty members of the Pi chapter of the Theta Nu Epsilon, a secret society of the sophomores of the State College, partook of their eighth annual banquet at the Fallon house Friday night. The bill of fare was one of the finest ever prepared by the Fallon house caterers. Several toasts were responded to by the members of the class, Hugh Taylor acting toast Master.

Dropped Dead at Hecla.

David Dunkle, a farmer of Walker township, dropped dead of heart disease at Hecla Park about 10 o'clock Monday morning. At this writing no further particulars are obtainable.

Mr. Dunkle was aged about 68 years and leaves a wife and a family of children.

Death of Robert Rankin.

On Monday Edward B. Rankin received a telegram announcing the serious illness of his brother, Robert Rankin, at his home in Midway, Pa. He departed on the next train for that place, and Tuesday morning a telegram was received announcing Robert's death. The remains were brought to Bellefonte for interment. We are not informed as to the nature of the disease which culminated in Mr. Rankin's death.

In Honor of the Dead.

On Sunday morning Gregg Post, No. 95, about forty in number, attended divine service at the A. M. E. church where Rev. H. A. Grant preached a wonderfully interesting and powerful sermon on the subject of "Patriotism." The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and was filled with a large audience. A large and select choir, under the leadership of Miss Lizzie Harden, with Miss Nellie Grant at the organ and accompanied by Miss Corney Grant on the violin, furnished the music appropriate to the occasion.

Rev. Grant chose for his text the verse John 11:52. The text was in keeping with the subject of "Patriotism." The Reverend gentlemen told how the lives of over 400,000 of the 2,000,000 men engaged in the late war were sacrificed that the Union might stand united forever. But he counted the cost, large though it was, as being nominal compared to the gain. He then spoke of the present unity of the North and South. The entire services were very interesting.

IN THE AFTERNOON.

At 2.30 o'clock in the afternoon the Post and a goodly number of citizens assembled in the post room and held a special memorial service in honor of Hon. A. G. Curtin, Col. D. S. Keller and Henry Robb, deceased members. Three chairs draped in mourning stood in semi-circle in front of the Commander's desk. There was music of an appropriate character and a very able and eloquent address by Gen. W. F. Reeder, who dwelt upon the life of the soldier, the good done his country and extolled the merits of the departed. All in all it was an impressively observed day for Gregg Post.

Clean Up the Streets.

It is very desirable that the people of our community be more alert in the important work of cleaning our town—the streets, alleys, pavements and gutters.

We recognize the necessity for cleanliness in our homes, let us extend our interest to the streets, removing all rubbish, cleaning and repairing gutters, and encouraging habits of neatness and order through the community.

Nothing has more to do with the untidiness of our streets than the habit of sweeping loose papers out of our stores and offices. Let this be stopped and the change will be noticeable. The keeping of large boxes on the sidewalks, in front of our leading stores, is another objectionable habit.

In view of our coming Centennial we desire our town to present an appearance worthy of its history. It is strongly urged that all lend their influence and energies to advance this work, and one of the happy results of this Centennial may be our forming fixed habits of order and cleanliness.

What They Cost.

Charles Shearer, the blacksmith who has his shop in rear of REPUBLICAN office, has done some horse-shoeing with the lightest metal in the known world, viz., aluminum. The cost of a set of shoes of this kind is five dollars, a pretty salty price for these times. They weigh four ounces each while an iron or steel shoe not near as large weighs eight ounces. He says the aluminum shoe does not wear near as well as steel and that on a draft horse they would not wear over a week. This of course makes them out of sight for ordinary use. If some way could be discovered to harden the new metal so it would wear without increasing the weight, he thinks the patent would be a fortune to the discoverer.

He Hung Himself.

Saturday afternoon William Wise, a well-to-do farmer who lived about five miles northwest of Woodward, while in a temporary fit of despondency caused by ill health, went to the barn and committed suicide by hanging himself with a line to a rafter. From all appearance he stood on a cross beam, tied the line around his neck then to a rafter and then jumped to his death. When found he was dead. Mr. Wise was aged about 37 years and leaves a wife and one brother to mourn his untimely death.

THINGS ARE BOOMIN'

And the Outlook for a Rousing Celebration Grows Brighter.

An unusually large and enthusiastic centennial meeting was held in the arbitration room in the court house, on Monday evening, and from the various reports it can be safely concluded that Bellefonte's centennial is going to be a great affair.

On the calling of the meeting to order by chairman Mitchell Mr. Geo. R. Meek reported that, after consultation with Dr. Atherton, Lieut. McCaskey and others, he had been informed that the State College Cadet Corps would be present two hundred strong, and that they desired to know if the association could do anything in the matter of transportation. On motion of A. S. Garman Mr. Meek was appointed a committee of one to make the best and necessary arrangements.

The Finance Committee reported that they still needed a little money to meet all the appropriations necessary and now, anybody and everybody who have not yet contributed are asked not to wait to be called on but hand your subscription to any member of the Finance committee, namely, W. A. Lyon, C. F. Montgomery, Geo. T. Bush, J. C. Meyer, or John Sourbeck. If the amount be only a dollar, give it, and give it now, so the committee can know just where it stands.

Dr. Hoy, for the Committee on Parade, reported that a general invitation had been extended to everybody throughout the county to prepare something for the industrial parade. The Doctor also outlined a project he had in mind as something that would be a suitable and proper exhibition for the borough to prepare and he was instructed to go ahead and have it gotten up. He also reported the following business houses as having promised to prepare floats: Frank Naginey, Philip Beezer, E. C. Rowe, M. Fauble, Wm. Brachbill, Brockerhoff Bros., James I. McClure, Web. Kerstetter, George Fasig, Joseph Ceaders, H. A. McKee, The Globe, John Meese, James Schofield, Lyon & Co., B. C. Achenbach, The Racket, Montgomery & Co., Irvin's Sons, R. A. Beck, John Nighthart, L. C. Green, S. H. Williams, James Harris & Co., "The "Watchman," J. S. Waite & Co., and many others have half promised to and will likely join in. The boys' Cadet Corps is coming along in good shape and promises to be a leading feature of the parade.

The Decoration committee reported that they had decided to put up four arches, located one across High street at the post-office, one from John McGinleys to the Benner property and the others on Allegheny from Jackson, Crider & Hastings' bank to the Brockerhoff House and from W. T. Achenbachs to the First National bank. They will be assisted in the decorating by Volmer Bros., Harrisburg, who will be in Bellefonte about the 30th or 31st. And just here the Committee urges all citizens, and especially business houses, to see to it that their buildings are well decorated for that occasion. Let there not be one house devoid of decoration.

Dr. Hoy asked if it were possible to offer prizes for a competitive drill of the military branch of the K. G. E., and the matter was held under consideration until next meeting night.

On motion the following were appointed a committee on music whose duty it will be to see to the hiring of bands, etc.: W. A. Lyon, Clement Dale and R. F. Hunter.

On motion the chairman was appointed a committee of one to officially notify Gen. Beaver that he had been invited to prepare and deliver the Centennial address.

The Relic committee reported that they had secured and were still securing a large collection of valuable and historical relics and that they anticipated an exhibition of unusual interest.

No other business being before the association on motion it adjourned to meet Wednesday evening at 8.30 o'clock.

Death of Henry Noll.

We are pained to have to record the death of W. H. Noll, Sr., of Pleasant Gap, a brother of our townsman, Mr. John Noll, which took place on Tuesday afternoon at half-past one o'clock. Mr. Noll has been ill for a number of weeks and the doctors some days ago despaired of saying his life. He was born and reared near the place of his death and was one of a large family of children. He was 58 years 1 month and 6 days of age. There are left to mourn his death a wife and seven children, namely, William, James, Abner, John, Samuel, Boyd and Miss Effie.

The funeral will occur on Friday, meet at the house at 9 o'clock where services will be held, after which the remains will be taken to Zion for interment.

Marriage Licenses.

J. A. Sherlock, of Hollidaysburg, and Mary Kelly, of Bellefonte.

Sidney Krumrine, of Bellefonte, and Jennie Bubb, of Williamsport.

Leonard Lecuq and Plove Cardinal, of Philipsburg.

Richard Gilbert and Edith Lair, of Miles township.

Rev. F. S. Dobbins, District Secretary of the Amercian Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, will preach in the Milesburg Baptist Church Sunday, June 30th, at 11 a. m., and 7.30 p. m. Dr Dobbins is a fine speaker, and will give much interesting and useful information to his hearers in reference to the spread of the Gospel in the foreign fields. He has twice been to Japan as a missionary, and can therefore speak from personal experience. An effort will be made to have him address the Sunday afternoon meeting in the Y. M. C. A. on that date.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner, of Howard, are the guests of their son, Mr. Mitchell Gardner, on Spring street.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore are sojourning in New York city, the former on business and the latter for pleasure.

Mr. Tevel Ardel and Mr. Stevens, of Julian, spent Friday in Bellefonte the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Ardel, Jr.

Mr. T. R. Hamilton has improved his residence by the addition of a new kitchen and porch. It is a great improvement.

Mrs. Pierce and daughter, of State College, are guests at the residence of Mrs. A. J. Shivery, on North Allegheny street.

Mr. Edward B. Rankin is again to be found at his place of business as general manager in the Western Union Telegraph office.

Miss Emma Christ, of this place, departed on Monday evening for Anderson, Ind. where she will make her future home.

The Misses Nellie and Corney Grant, daughters of Rev. and Mrs. H. A. Grant, arrived here yesterday from Uniontown, Pa. They teach vocal and instrumental music.

Mr. William Nichols and daughter, Clara, of Philadelphia, arrived in Bellefonte Friday evening and are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Orvis on East Linn street.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hafer are rejoicing over the arrival of the first-born in their household. It is a boy and, if it lives, will probably make as good a dentist as its papa.

Miss Laura Cherry, the accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Cherry, of this place, after spending a few days in Millheim, returned home Thursday evening.

Miss Thamazine Potter, Mr. James Potter's youngest sister, sails for Europe on the 10th of June. She is going with Mr. Stetson's family of Overbrook, with whom she has made her home for several years.

Dr. Thomas Tobin, when he comes to Bellefonte in a few days will locate in the house on Spring street, recently vacated by C. C. Shuey. The doctor is a good practitioner and a good all-around fellow and we bespeak for him success from the start.

Next Monday Clement Dale, Esq., wife and children will journey to Philadelphia, where Mrs. Dale and children will visit her parents and Mr. Dale will go to Hagerstown, Md., to attend the general Synod of the Lutheran church, to which he is a delegate.

Mr. and Mrs. George Shaner, of Kane, Pa., are in Bellefonte enjoying their wedding trip visiting friends. They were married one week ago on Tuesday last. Mrs. Shaner was formerly Miss Lena Beezer, and will be well remembered by many people in Bellefonte.

W. T. Meyer is now in Philadelphia, where he has taken his daughter, Maud, to the Howard Hospital for treatment. On last Friday she underwent the second operation for enlargement of the lymphatic glands and Dr. Martin, an eminent physician, has removed forty-seven enlarged glands, some as large as an egg, others smaller. She is nine years old, very patient and no trouble whatever. The disease originated from the grip. They expect to return home the latter part of the month, we hope his daughter will be permanently cured.

BELLEFONTE CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION.

Reduced Rates via the Pennsylvania Railroad.

For the Centennial Celebration, to be held at Bellefonte, Pa., June 5, 6 and 7, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company will sell on those dates excursion tickets to Bellefonte and return, from Tyrone, Clearfield, Philipsburg, Houtzdale, Osceola, Curwensville and intermediate stations, at a single fare for the round trip.

This rate is open to the public and tickets will be good for return passage until June 8, inclusive.

THERE were two hundred and twenty seven editors and their friends at the banquet of the Democratic editoral association of the State of New York held at Delmonico's on Friday night. President Cleveland sent a letter in which he lauded the Democratic party as the party of the people because for other reasons it recognizes the fact that sound and absolutely safe money is the life blood of our country's strength and prosperity. Sound money speeches were made by comptroller James H. Eckles and Senator Hill.

ATTENTION! CHRISTIAN WORKERS!!

To the Counties of Centre, Clinton and Lycoming.

All the Christian workers of Sabbath schools, and all members of the Epworth League, Christian Endeavor Societies and Young Men's Christian Associations in the three counties of Centre, Clinton and Lycoming are hereby most cordially invited and urgently requested to attend the grand Christian Rally to be held at Hecla Park, along the line of the new railroad of Central Penn., on Thursday, June 20th, under the auspices of the Bellefonte Y. M. C. A.

Three services will be held under the control of the religious organizations represented in the morning, afternoon and early evening respective. Among the prominent speakers engaged already are Mr. John Wanamaker, of Philadelphia; Mr. James McCormick, of Harrisburg; Rev. George Furbay of Tyrone; and Ex-Governor Beaver, of Bellefonte. Other entertaining talkers are expected to be present.

The music, accompanied by a full orchestra, will be a delightful feature and will be under the leadership of the famous tenor and contralto singers, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lowe, of Philadelphia. For those who do not take their own baskets, provision will be supplied at the Park at very reasonable rates. Especially low rates have been secured from the railroad companies for this occasion. The intervals between the services will be about two and a half hours long and during those periods music will be furnished by the bands.

The Secretaries of the religious organizations invited and the Superintendents of Sabbath schools of all denominations are urgently requested to read this invitation at the first regular service and urge one and all to turn out and spend a day in the woods that will be at once enjoyable and profitable.

Every one that can should bring a copy of Gospel Hymns Nos. 5 and 6 combined.

Committee on invitations: Gen. Jas. A. Beaver, C. M. Bower, Rev. J. W. Rue, H. B. Heylmun, Jas. R. Hughes.

A BIG SUCCESS.

Thousands of Bellefontes See Main's Circus.

After many days of anxious waiting, Walter L. Main's great circus made its appearance in Bellefonte on Tuesday. On Monday a big crowd witnessed the performance at Tyrone but it could not exceed the number that crowded into the large and roomy tents on Tuesday.

The performance both morning and evening was more than even the most critical could ask and the thundering applause that was accorded the actors after each feat, showed that the crowd was more than satisfied. It is estimated that over 5,000 people passed into the great show during the day and almost that many in the evening. The gymnastic work of Messrs. Stirk and Zeno, was thrilling all through and when they performed the double-somersault in mid-air, the applause was deafening. The races were fine, if not the best ever witnessed in this city, and almost made one think he was at Gravesend or some other big track. The bare-back riding was far above the average and elicited much favorable comment from the spectators. During the evening Mr. W. Fred Aymer, mounted the platform and kindly made a very nice talk in behalf of the Bellefonte centennial committees, for which he deserves the thanks of the people in general. The officers of the show deserve much credit for the excellent order maintained during the day, making the absence of pickpockets, fakirs, etc., noticeable by their absence. This is a worthy feature of the management alone. About one o'clock in the morning the show people departed for Lock Haven. It is to be hoped that they will receive as good treatment as was accorded them during their short stay in our city.
